A MISS IS A MUST FOR FAIR

Eleven pretty girls all in a row, but which one to pick Sherrin doesn't know. Sherrin Molyard, of course, was "Miss Victoria, 1960," but who will be her successor? Entrants in the 1961 contest, sponsored by the Jaycee Fair committee, are, from left: Marika Schwagley, 20; Pat Aldeguer, 22; Pat Thompson, 18; Shirley Reason, 18; Bonnie

Poulsen, 18; Linda Petterson, 19; Georgina Noels, 19; Loretta Mathews, 18; Dianne Breckon, 19; Nina Holden, 18; and Audrey Clink, 19. One more entry has been received so far—Sherine Smith, 19. Officials hope to see at least 25 entrants before the pre-judging of the contest is held April 17. (Times Photo.)

KELOWNA PACKING HOUSE DESTROYED BY FIRE

Marshals Probe Second Blaze

KELOWNA, B.C. (CP)—A member of the British Columbia fire marshal's office today was to investigate the possibility of arson in a $500,000 fire, the second major packinghouse fire here in less than a month.

Fire Chief Charles Pettman said after the fire was brought under control after a four-hour fight against deadly cyanide gas fumes there is "no actual evidence of arson."

But, he added, "it appears to have got away too fast for a normal fire."

Mayor Dick Parkinson said he was sure an arsonist was responsible for the fire. S-Sgt. M. N. Macalpine of the RCMP detachment here declined to comment but said police are investigating a previous small fire and an $800,000 fire that destroyed several warehouses March 14.

Chief Pettman said today's fire would be closely watched in case it broke out again. While firemen from three departments fought the blaze, the second in as many weeks a 12,000-volt power line was in danger of parting over their heads.

At one point deadly cyanide gas from fertilizer stored in one of the buildings rose with smoke around the fire-fighters.

A giant packinghouse of Kelowna Growers Exchange in a warehouse complex near the railway yards here, and the Occidental Packinghouse cold storage plant adjacent to it were destroyed.

On March 14 four of the KGE packinghouses were destroyed in an $800,000 blaze. Another building was badly damaged at that time.

Police Warned Spectators in Danger

At one stage, the fire chief warned RCMP he could not be responsible for the safety of hundreds of spectators at the scene.

Mayor Parkinson said: "There's something awfully fishy about this fire. It must have been a firebug."

He said the blaze, following on the heels of the March 14 fire, has placed the Growers in a serious position insofar as packinghouse facilities are concerned.

The Growers, he said, were considering all-night guards to protect remaining packinghouses.

Fire Sweeps Vernon Plant

VERNON (CP)—Vernon fire department quelled a blaze at the R. H. MacDonald and Son Limited packinghouse here Monday. Packinghouse owner R. H. MacDonald said damage was restricted to "several thousand dollars." A blaze at the same spot 14 months ago caused damage worth $30,000.

'SENTRY' LEGAL, TOO

For $40 You Can Learn If Radar Lurks Nearby

BUFFALO (AP)—An electronics company in nearby North Tonawanda is manufacturing a handy device that warns motorists as they approach police radar zones.

Radatron Inc. calls it "the radar sentry," and says it is completely legal.

The device is about the size of two-cigar packages and sells for about $40. It is powered by self-contained batteries that activate a buzzer signal about a quarter-mile from radar speed-tracking equipment.

William Waytena, general manager of the corporation, said "it's certainly as legal as radar is for the police."

But police feel differently. "I think a jury might be influenced in an accident case if you had one of these devices in your car," one traffic officer said.

U.S. Arms Budget Boosted $2 Billion

More Polaris Missiles Asked

WASHINGTON (CP)—President Kennedy asked Congress today for an increase of nearly $2,000,000,000 in United States defence spending, concentrating heavily on building a bigger missile stockpile and more conventional weapons to wage brush-fire wars.

Kennedy also proposed slashing expenditures on costly development of the 2,000-mile-an-hour B-70 bomber and atomic aircraft, and rejected army moves to get the Mike-Zeus to prove its worth in field tests before production is started.

Over-all, his proposals would mean an increase of about $1,954,000,000 over the $42,900,000,000 defence budget former president Eisenhower blue-printed for the fiscal year beginning next July 1.

"This budget is wholly consistent with our earnest desire for serious conversation with the other side on disarmament," Kennedy said. "If genuine progress is made, then as tension is reduced, so will be our arms."

Fire Claims Family of 12 In Log House

CLARKSVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—A family of 11, possibly 12, died today in a fire which destroyed the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Whitehead in the nearby rural community of Dotsonville.

Sheriff Kenneth Albright's office said 10 bodies, most of them children, were recovered within a few hours from the smoldering embers. Firemen sought two more believed to be in the debris.

Mr. and Mrs. Whitehead and their nine children lived in a five-room log house, along with Mrs. Whitehead's father, Albert Gibbs.

The children ranged in age from 13 years to nine months. Dotsonville is a small, rural community a few miles south of the Kentucky-Tennessee border.

MORE ATOMIC SUBS

Kennedy proposed boosting production of atomic-powered submarines armed with Polaris missiles to 29 in the next three years from the 19 originally planned. Effort would be made to extend the Polaris range from the present 1,500 miles to perhaps 2,500.

Production also would be increased for the Minuteman intercontinental ballistic missile. But plans for creating three mobile squadrons of these missiles to be moved on railway cars are being changed to replace them with three squadrons fixed underground. The mobile missile apparently still needs improvement.

Development of the Skybolt missile, with a range of about 1,000 miles, is to be accelerated. The Skybolt, on which Britain is depending heavily, would be shot from long-range bombers, but some of the original concept of use may require change.

The U.S. Air Force had hopes of eventually using Skybolts with the B-70 flying at three times the speed of sound. But Kennedy decided to reduce B-70 development to research project, with only about four prototypes to be built.

Informants said the B-70 had no major innovations to warrant the huge expenditures involved.

CONTINENTAL DEFENCE

In the field of continental defence—which may be closer to home in Canada—Kennedy proposed improvements in radar and satellite warning systems, but made no mention of any defence production-sharing plans with Canada.

But Canadian defence manufacturers undoubtedly would find plenty of interest in new items needed for limited war. Kennedy proposed spending more money on non-nuclear weapons research, on additional transport aircraft, new types of sea transport, helicopters, rifles, ammunition, assault rockets, trucks, torpedoes, as well as secret weapons.

While downgrading the B-70 project, Kennedy maintained manned aircraft will be needed "even during the 1965-75 missile era for various limited war missions" and other tasks.

CNR Deficit Biggest Yet

OTTAWA (CP)—A continent-wide nosedive in transport traffic hit the Canadian National Railways in 1960 with the biggest deficit of its 37-year history.

The publicly-owned company went in the red by $67,496,777, which was $23,908,487 higher than the deficit of 1959 and some $6,000,000 higher than the record deficits of the depression years of 1931-32. The annual report was tabled in the Commons today.

EQUAL—BUT THOSE MICE!

MOSCOW (UPI)—Soviet scientist Oleg Gazenko explained today why no woman will be aboard Russia's first manned space flight.

"In spite of the equality of sexes in our country, we will have to give preference to a man," Gazenko told a news conference.

"Moreover, there are mice in the spaceship."

W. Germany Plans Larger Naval Ships

LONDON (AP)—West Germany's allies have blocked for build larger warships, diplomats said Monday night.

Despite support from Gen. Lauris Norstad, the supreme allied commander in Europe, the West European Union Council in London unexpectedly held up approval until Bonn submits more data.

The WEU wants to know exactly how many new destroyers and supply ships West Germany wants to build and their sizes. Informants expressed the belief West Germany's request will be approved when the information is furnished in a week or so.

U.S. Ready To Assist Africans

UNITED NATIONS (UPI)—Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson told the African countries today that the U.S. is prepared to back a "realistic" program for their continent's development with the world's capital-rich countries contributing one per cent of their gross national product.

Stevenson, in a 70-minute meeting with diplomats of 25 African countries, declared that the initiative for a continental development program must come from the Africans themselves.

The group, after hearing Stevenson, appointed a sub-committee to consider the program he had outlined. Participants in the session expressed pleasure with the frank exposition put before them by Stevenson.

Stevenson told a news conference later that he had told the Africans the U.S. was prepared to "give substantial support—both multilateral and bilateral—to a realistic program in Africa."

FRIENDLY ENEMIES

Hard feeling set aside, Opposition Leader Strachan, Premier Bennett and Liberal Leader Perrault joined hands in friendly fashion when legislature prorogued Monday afternoon after stormy nine-week session.

VERBAL PUNCHES TRADED AS ROUGH SESSION ENDS

By FRANK RUTTER

Times Legislative Reporter

One of B.C.'s roughest legislative sessions ended at 5 p.m. Monday on a bitter note symbolic of the CCF-Social Credit battle to assert power and influence.

Lieutenant-Governor George Pearkes read a short prorogation speech prepared by the government which ignored the biggest legislative acts which caused all the controversy in the last nine weeks.

Monday's sittings were a climax to last week's furious five-night sittings during which the CCF fought every inch of the way against labor legislation and Health Minister Eric Martin.

Opposition Leader Robert Strachan stalked angrily out of the House before Premier Bennett's adjournment—prior to the prorogation ceremony. He had been forced to yield the floor when he tried to protest the claim of the premier that the CCF had filibustered the session into the Easter Week.

The two gave sharp statements to the press after the House rose.

Premier's official session-end statement included:

Regret over "the decision of Opposition spokesmen to employ filibustering and delaying tactics at a time when a vigorous development program is of such urgency."

Mr. Strachan's statement: "It's completely false."

In keeping with British parliamentary tradition the Opposition leader added, "We have insisted on our rights to speak up as responsible representatives."

With prorogation came royal

NORMAN CRIBBENS IN THE LEGISLATURE

Only the flies danced in these musty sunlit corridors as the first session of the 26th B.C. Legislature groaned to a halt at 5 p.m. Monday.

There were flies everywhere and for some strange reason they had left the lovely spring day outside and were flitting around the heads of the 52 legislators and numerous government officials who make the laws of this province.

Yet no one could say there were flies on the CCF—in the metaphorical sense—for they kept up a relentless barrage of questions right up to the moment when the House rose for the stately prologation ceremonies.

It is a remarkable fact (but nonetheless true) that towards the end, when the House was almost fainting from fatigue, a diligent CCF member began talking about meat cutters.

Just how this honest implement came to be injected into a debate on estimates for the mental health department no one will ever know.

But it seemed almost symbolic of the CCF's determination to tear a strip off the government before the session closed.

They just wouldn't let go. And it was because of their determination no doubt that Premier Bennett threatened to adjourn the session until after the Easter holidays.

He knew very well that this would create much expense for out-of-town members who have to pay extra for their temporary residence in Victoria.

So it was that, after nine weeks of day-and-night debate, the House adjourned for another year—or perhaps only for six months, since an emergency session may be called in September.

This was the 44th day of a session which included 18 night sittings and three all-night sittings, followed by a Saturday afternoon sitting and a Monday morning sitting.

The prolonged length of the session—one of the longest in provincial history—resulted from the government's determination to carry through restrictive labor legislation and the Opposition's determination not to be bulldozed through it.

One of the last to take a firm stand against the government was burly George Hobbs, the CCF member for Revelstoke.

His persistent opposition to the passing of estimates for the health department reminded me of an almost similar stand taken many years ago by Jack Hobbs, the famous British cricketer, when he defended his wicket against those tough lads from Australia.

Another challenger was Gordon Gibson, the outspoken Liberal member for North Vancouver. Somehow or other Mr. Gibson managed to inject the forestry resources of Vancouver Island into a debate on the government's mental health department.

Deputy Speaker Alex Matthew banged his gavel in protest, but not before Mr. Gibson had put over his seemingly irrelevant message:

"We have given away 90 per cent of the resources of Vancouver Island to five or six people."

Mr. Gibson said later he mentioned this because the mental health department needed money and should know "where to go for it."

'VERY SICK' SAYS REPORT ON BEHAN

TORONTO (CP)—Brendan Behan is in hospital and described as "a very sick man."

Dr. David Pratt declined to disclose the nature of the illness that kept the wild Irish playwright from appearing in court Monday to face charges of assault and creating a disturbance.

Police have not tried to arrest Behan, despite a bench warrant issued by Magistrate Donald Graham when he did not turn up for his court appearance.

Behan faces charges of assaulting a police officer here, assaulting a security guard at the Royal York Hotel and creating a disturbance.

assent to 77 acts in what the premier termed the most productive session in British Columbia history.

The one which has the most immediate and far-reaching effect on every British Columbian is a three-cent-a-gallon increase in the gasoline tax, effective immediately.

This was done to secure the $8,000,000 needed to balance British Columbia's $339,966,599 budget for the new fiscal year.

The other most significant legislation was enactment of Bill 42, halting political contributions from union dues, construed by the CCF as an infringement on human rights and a bid to wreck the New Party.

Besides these two, big issues of the nine-week session included allowance for a provincial subsidy to the PGE Railway, changes in the Public Schools Act, the conduct of Highways Minister P. A. Gagliardi and the social welfare department.

The blow that goaded the CCF into a fierce debate on health department estimates—and pushed the session into this week—was refusal of the government to table the Ross report of the American Psychiatric Association on the British Columbia mental health services.

The Opposition's show of strength surprised the government and drew from the premier Monday the warning that if they continued to talk beyond today he would call an unprecedented Easter recess and have them all back again.

END IN SIGHT
It was not until 3.45 p.m. that the end of the session came in sight.

The premier announced he had had "a small conference" with Mr. Strachan and Liberal leader Ray Perrault and that Gen. Peakes was coming to prorogue the House at 5.

Gen. Peakes arrived at 5.02 for the traditional ceremony. His closing speech, berib-oned with a huge red bow, was brief and formal.

"Legislation which will be of lasting significance and benefit has been enacted," he said.

He then read a list of the new moves that fell into this category:

Revised insurance benefit requirements; implementation of Chant Royal Commission recommendations on education; an anti-discrimination bill; better teacher pensions; bounty to encourage the copper industry, and a new Credit Union Act.

"The program of my government for the continued progress of our province will continue throughout the coming year," he said.

BLESSING

Then he gave MLAs the traditional "blessing": "May divine providence accompany you."

Mr. Bennett's wind-up statement to the press said that he believes the recession to be "past the low point."

He said the government's programs will now push B.C. out of it. He listed such projects as two new ferries for the Swartz Bay-Tsawwassen run, final links in the Trans-Canada Highway, new hospitals, a crude oil pipeline from the Peace River country.

'Lowest cost-per-ton-mile' sums up the reasons:

No one buys heavy-duty trucks on impulse—there's too much at stake. Many questions have to be answered before a decision is made.

How well will the truck do the job? Can it be operated at a low cost? Will operating costs be rock-bottom? How long will it last? How much will it be worth at trade-in time? Can the dealer be depended on for prompt parts supply and efficient maintenance?

To get the answers to such questions, truck buyers size up competitive dealers for their knowledge of trucks—their range of trucks—and their truck service facilities. Above all, they compare the operating costs of their own trucks and other units doing similar jobs.

When all these facts are weighed, you'll see why Canada's heavy-duty truck operators buy more Internationals than any other kind.

SESSION 'INFORMAL' PEACE BID AT ALBERNI?

Deputy municipal affairs minister Everett Brown said today he had received no official word from Alberni council on its reported request to seek a public inquiry into city administration.

(See earlier story page 29)

"When expedient, we can call an inquiry when a complaint is made," he said.

"We try informally to resolve difficulties."

However, if a formal application is made for an inquiry into municipal affairs, findings of the inspector of municipalities is binding.

These powers, he said, had been exercised only four times in the past.

Uranium Contract Firm Says Eldorado Chief

(From Times News Service)

OTTAWA—W. M. Gilchrist, president of Eldorado Mining and Refining Limited, today insisted that the Crown agency has a firm contract with the United Kingdom Atomic Energy Authority to supply Britain with 12,000 tons of uranium in 1963-66.

Mr. Gilchrist told the Commons research committee that Eldorado assumes that an exchange of letter of intent is a firm contract. He added that if what was meant by a firm contract was a formal document, Eldorado didn't have one.

Prime Minister Diefenbaker told the Commons Monday that Eldorado had no contract with Britain for the amount of uranium in question and that agencies concerned have held intermittent discussions on renegotiation of the 1957 letter of intent.

Questioning of Mr. Gilchrist was started by George McIlraith (L—Ottawa West) who asked for "final clarification" of Britain's commitment to Canada.

Mr. McIlraith recalled that Mr. Gilchrist had informed the committee early this month

No Controversy Created Says Tory

Gordon Aiken (PC—Parry Sound-Muskoka) said no conflicting statements had been made in the entire matter and that there was nothing controversial about it.

In reply to Mr. McIlraith, Mr. Gilchrist said it would be wrong to assume that the 12,000-ton sale to Britain had been left out of the uranium stretch-out program so that the uranium could be purchased more cheaply by Eldorado from independent producers later on.

Mr. McIlraith said this reply varied from the statement made Monday by Mr. Diefenbaker.

The Northern Affairs Department is establishing wildlife sanctuaries in the far north for Canada geese and other migratory birds likely to be displaced by explorations and development, it was announced.

Northern Affairs Minister Dinsdale, replying to questions by James Speakman (PC—Wetaskiwin), said areas have already been designated in the Eastern Arctic and others will be established soon in the Western Arctic.

Arthur Maloney (PC—Toronto Parkdale) said that a "grave injustice" has been done to him and his brother, Mines Minister James Ma-that there was a "very firm contract" for Canadian sales of uranium to the United Kingdom in 1963-66.

Mr. Gilchrist stuck firm to this testimony today and Mr. McIlraith said he agreed with the Eldorado president's interpretation of the letter of intent.

In reply to other questions Mr. Gilchrist reiterated that the allocation of contracts by Eldorado to uranium mines is a matter of government policy.

The government established the policy and it was implemented by Eldorado.

Mr. McIlraith said Trade Minister Hees should be called as a witness.

Ferguson Brown (PC—Vancouver Kingsway) suggested that Hon. Robert Winters, president of Rio Tinto Mines Limited and former Liberal works minister, be called.

longy of Ontario, in newspaper reports from a preliminary hearing in Toronto.

Evidence in the hearing was that one group of gamblers had prepared a brief for prosecution of a rival establishment and that the brief was given to "Fred Maloney, a member of parliament," who passed it on through his brother to the police.

Mr. Maloney told the Commons that some published reports had taken unwarranted licence with his name, inserting it for "Fred Muloney."

He told the House that neither he nor his brother had ever seen or heard of the alleged brief, and that the notes from which the witness gave his evidence did not contain his or his brother's name.

(The gamblers have been committed for trial after a preliminary hearing.)

DR. FINCH, MISTRESS GUILTY OF MURDER

Death Penalty to Be Sought

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The state will ask the death penalty for Dr. R. Bernard Finch and his mistress, Carole Tregoff, convicted of murdering his socially prominent wife with a bullet in the back.

A third jury, agreeing after two others had deadlocked, returned its verdict late Monday.

Finch, 43, handsome surgeon, was found guilty of the first-degree murder of pretty, popular Barbara Jean Finch, 36, outside their West Covina home July 18, 1959.

Carole, 24, Auburn-haired, once a shapely model who became Finch's receptionist and then his paramour, was found guilty of second-degree murder.

Both were found guilty of conspiracy to commit murder. "Conspiracy to commit murder is punishable by death in California," said Deputy District Attorney Clifford Crail. "We will ask the death penalty for both defendants."

CAROLE SOBBER

Finch, hands clasped, took his own verdict coolly. When he heard Carole's his face reddened and tears welled in his eyes. He reached past a lawyer and patted her shoulder. She was sobbing.

As they were led out of the courtroom, the lovers embraced tearfully and tenderly. They stood clasped together briefly. Then Carole, head down, shoulders shaking with sobs, followed a woman sheriff's deputy back to jail a few floors above.

Under California law the same jury of 10 men and two women will now set the penalty. Superior Judge David Coleman told them to return to court for this purpose next Monday.

First-degree murder is punishable by life imprisonment or death in the gas chamber, second-degree by five years to life.

The jury had deliberated slightly more than 21 hours since last Thursday morning.

The end of the three-month-long trial—59 working days in court—came with dramatic swiftness before about 80 spectators in a drab, eight-floor courtroom of the 35-year-old Hall of Justice.

After the verdict was read, co-prosecutor Crail said:

"This restores my faith in the jury system. This (the guilty verdict) should have happened in the first trial."

Maxwell Keith, young counsel who took over Finch's defence for the third trial, said:

"We are definitely going to appeal. I am disappointed and surprised over the verdict."

Carole's lawyer, Donald J. Lock, refused to comment.

The second trial started last June 27 and continued 133 days.

The third trial started Jan. 3.

Prosecutors claimed the then wealthy surgeon and his mistress cold-bloodedly killed Mrs. Finch so they could marry without a costly divorce settlement. Finch testified the shooting was an accident.

The couple's three murder trials set a record for any one case in the memory of veteran court observers here. Cost to the state and the defendants, court sources say, probably is about $800,000.

The first trial began Dec. 11, 1959, and spanned 92 days. The jury deliberated 37 hours and finally was dismissed March 12 as hopelessly deadlocked.

At the opening of the Commons sitting, Opposition leader Pearson and CCF leader Argue congratulated the prime minister and wished him well.

An Unhappy Session

WHATEVER ELSE LENDS importance to the session just concluded—and many items of vital concern to the people received attention—the sittings of spring 1961 go down on the record stamped "legislation by exhaustion."

The unprecedented manner in which the legislature was driven through day and all-night sessions was wrong in every particular. The physical drain on members reflected an inhuman abuse of government prerogative. Men and women were forced to consider affairs that could have lasting results on the future of the province when sheer fatigue had drugged their thinking. How they recover from the demands made upon them is a personal issue. How their deliberations, through a haze of weariness, affect provincial affairs, is a public matter.

And for what purpose were they driven?

To meet a deadline that was unnecessary and which, in the final result, was not achieved.

It is the unhappy custom, under more reasonable circumstances, to rush a large amount of important legislation through in the final hours of any session. At the best of times this is unfortunate and unsatisfactory. Under conditions prevailing in the provincial legislature last week it was inexcusable.

The controversial labor act amendments were given stormy passage through the House, setting up some safeguards for the individual union member's political independence but at the same time raising misgivings about direct interference in union affairs, and challenging them to "prove their honesty."

The highest budget in the province's history has been approved, with the public moving to a higher plateau of taxation through the increase in road-users' fuel taxes.

Provision has been made for some changes in the operation of schools—for the most part favored by a large section of the public. This, as a move to implement some recommendations of the Chant Commission report, will be watched with a view to further changes in future.

While announcement of a few improvements in the social welfare service has been made, they fall short of hopes entertained in that field. Criticism levelled at the government for its operations have gone largely unanswered.

The report of plans for a centre to give expanded and modern mental health service, with treatment, in this area have been generally applauded.

But these gains have not made the session a happy one. It has been mismanaged by the government with scant consideration either for the members or for the people who have not been kept nearly as well informed as they should be. The administration does not match its propaganda slogan on that point when it comes to releasing reports of public concern.

Up When It Should Be Down

MR. PETERSON SAYS THE government's new school taxation formula will increase the actual taxes paid by a Victoria resident by only $1.10 on property assessed at $5,000. He adds that the increase will be substantially more in rural areas deprived of their three mill differential.

The point, of course, is not that the increase in municipal taxes can be held down to $1.10, according to the minister of education's arithmetic, but that there should be any increase at all in the school load placed upon the home owner.

Municipalities have made no secret for years of their conviction that too heavy a burden is being placed upon them for educational purposes. In various briefs from the Union of British Columbia Municipalities and from individual members of that body, the point has been hammered home that the levy against real estate is too high.

Because schools demand so much of the home-owner's tax dollar, he gets less than he needs of other services he reasonably could expect from his municipal government.

Moreover, because he considers the charge too high, he has, in many districts, rejected school building by-laws. That rejection springs not from a conviction that additional school accommodation is unnecessary. The population figures show that it is vitally needed. The repudiation of the by-laws is due mainly to the feeling that the municipal taxpayer is already over-loaded.

A Victoria Social Credit member, commenting on the minister's announcement of higher taxes, says he hopes the home-owner's grant will be raised to $100 to more than offset the increase.

Home-owner's grants are excellent vote-bait at election times. Their appeal in this community is automatically lessened, however, by the recognition on the part of taxpayers that even with the return to them of some of their own money, the so-called "bonus" fails to keep pace with mounting costs.

On Water, You Can't Walk Home

IN SIDNEY POLICE COURT last week the presiding magistrate convicted a cruiser operator for driving his boat dangerously and used the occasion to issue a general warning against foolhardy behavior afloat.

The case in court concerned the owner of a high-speed craft which circled the Mv. Sidney in a manner which caused grave anxiety to the ferry helmsman.

The public need concern itself only indirectly with the legal aspects of the case. But with boating becoming ever more popular, the safety principle involved is of general concern.

One of the amazing developments of recent years has been the degree as a recreation. The popularity of the pastime, coupled with the development of new craft and engines of superior standard, has attracted to the water any number of people whose faith in their boats is not matched by an adequate knowledge of risks in their operation.

Inevitably many inexperienced persons expose themselves to hazards they apparently do not recognize or, if they are understood, disregarded. A continuation of some of the more dangerous practices will lead eventually to tragedy.

The sea, or the lake for that matter, has about it elements of risk at the best and calmest of times. The first rule of boating must be to appreciate them.

Deep water commands respect. Part of that respect is expressed in observance of laws and regulations established in the interests of safety.

Beyond that, newcomers should remember the difference between big vessels in motion and cars, so accustomed. A big craft cannot put on the brakes and stop in a relatively few feet. And when the small boat's engine fails, the driver cannot park it by the curb and walk home.

No Sympathy in the U.S.

WHILE PRIME MINISTER Verwoerd explains to South Africans his version of London events which will take the Union out of the Commonwealth, South Africans have reason to note another adverse reaction to apartheid.

The United States has let them know very directly that racist theories of the National Government inspire no sympathy in the new Washington administration. In the United Nations Trusteeship Committee, the American position against the South African racist policy has been unequivocal. This follows the action of Mr. G. Mennen Williams, new assistant secretary of state for African Affairs, who neglected South Africa in his first tour of African states and who delivered the widely-publicized "Africa for the Africans" speech in Nairobi.

It is also to be viewed against the background of visits by Mr. Phillip K. Crowe, American Ambassador to South Africa, to such people as Albert John Luthuli, head of the outlawed African National Congress and to leaders of banned Indian groups.

Just possibly the American reaction to South Africa's race policies, coupled with the results of the Commonwealth Prime Ministers' conference, may make South Africans question the theory that everyone is out of step but them.

LOOSE ENDS

In Darkest B.C. With a Tattered Script

SOME day a reformed orator will write a definitive work on the art of speaking to Canadian Clubs. It will be a shocking book. There were times, I confess, in a recent speaking tour through darkest British Columbia, when I wondered if my speeches were worth all the trouble and expense. The audiences had no doubt on this point but were too kind to say so. That is the trouble with a speaking tour—the Canadian Clubs are too kind and lure the speaker from one town to another with overwhelming hospitality until he begins to enjoy it. Then he is permanently spoiled for any practical work. He just wants to make speeches.

CANADA is full of such tragic cases, the empty shells and faint echoes of once useful citizens. It rings and writhes with oratory. Only a strong, heroic nation could stand it. The thing is ridiculously simple really, once you get the hang of it, and the itinerant speaker deserves none of the sympathy which he receives everywhere. All you need is a single speech, carried safely in an inside pocket and repeated two or three times a day until it is tattered, worn out and illegible; a strong digestion to live on perpetual banquets; and enough brazen effrontery to assume that the audience of any small town is half-witted.

THAT assumption will hardly last through the first day. What the smug inhabitant of a big town soon discovers is that the small town of Canada is more intelligent and better informed than any metropolis.

Public intelligence, I am convinced, grows in inverse ratio to population.

Thus when one has lectured a polite and helpless captive audience from a prepared and sleazy text of platitudes, the ensuing questions from the listeners come as a shattering surprise.

IN a small town the people have time to read and think without distraction, and yet it is pathetic to see how much wisdom they expect from a visitor who, knowing less than they do, is willing to share his ignorance with everybody from the head table. The small town is the hope of the nation, but it's ruin for the speaker.

He can get away with anything in the prepared speech, since the Canadian Club is trained to disguise its interest under a thin, glazed look of interest. But when the question period opens the visitor is instantly exposed, he can no longer rely on his rehearsed clichés and is compelled, for once, to think as well as talk.

Don't shoot the speaker. He is doing his best, poor devil.

WHAT is the cure for unemployment? Should we recognize Red China? What about the future of the Congo? Will Castro succeed in Cuba? Why is gold flowing out of the United States?

These and a hundred other questions about which the speaker knows nothing must be answered in a few crisp, clarifying sentences until he hears the merciful opening bars of "God Save the Queen" from a piano and knows that he at last is safe, rescued like a fallen pugilist by the bell.

No, not quite safe. For the hospitality of the small Canadian town invariably spills over into another unofficial meeting, with bounteous supplies of food and drink in some friendly house until midnight while the citizens pin the guest in a corner and get down to cases.

WHEN he reels to bed in his hotel he is thoroughly deflated. He sees himself for a phony who should have remained "secure," silent and therefore respected in the nameless man-swarm of the city.

Still the Canadian Club is not quite discouraged. It has its guest up bedtime next morning to address the students of the local high school. And what can an old man say to the young across the yawning, unbridgeable gulf of the generations?

How can he defend the follies of his own generation from those hard-minded youngsters who want to know about everything and press for answers with all the natural cruelty of youth?

THE young of Canada, I realize now, are monsters, but charming, intelligent monsters with whom the nation will doubtless prosper. But after exposure to them and 10 speeches in five days I have burned the tattered text and retired to become a permanent listener.

The Canadian Clubs throughout the land needn't worry. There are plenty of speakers just yearning and burning to enlighten the public, free of charge, and so far a strong nation has survived them.

In the Opinion of Our Correspondents

Compulsory Support

In a recent issue of the Times the Minister of Labor was quoted as saying, "In a democracy it is basic that each individual must be allowed to support the political party or candidate of his choice. Contrarywise it is just as basic that an individual should not be compelled to support financially or otherwise any political party or candidate not of his choosing."

In saying this he has apparently forgotten that the customers of a private utility, are compelled to contribute to party funds without any choice if they wish to receive an essential service. This is a flagrant abuse of democracy. "DEMOCRATIC CITIZEN."

Learn From Criticism

I would like to advocate to some of Victoria's citizens our need to develop a more mature attitude towards criticism of the arts.

I have noted over the past year or so that when your capable dramatic and music critic, Audrey Johnson, writes a review that departs from expected praise and eulogy, and censures a performance for shortcomings in production or performance, there is an immediate and embarrassing scramble for the barricades, manifested in emotional "open letters," replies, counter-replies, cartoons, etc.

Certainly healthy controversy is detrimental to the cultural life of the community. Yet I suggest that there may be some of our citizens who find the spectacle of an able critic, periodically under attack for honest reviews, degrading and redolent of a "small-town" attitude.

Can the college students who collectively wrote to the Times (March 16) not learn from Mrs. Johnson's analysis, in which spheres their club needs to improve? Must they instead strain at a fancied insult in the late arrival of your columnist, using this as a defence for their production? Several of these young people are beginning already to contribute to the cultural life of the city; and when they have gained as much knowledge of the arts as has Mrs. Johnson, perhaps they will be able to gauge the standard of performance without necessarily staying to the end of the program.

The contents of John Hart's letter in the same issue, on this subject, do perhaps engender more serious concern. He, while admitting that Mrs. Johnson was correct in her criticisms, declares himself disappointed at her words by pointing out the amateur status of the Players' Club. If a group which advertises and sells tickets to the general public is not considered adult enough to hear anything but platitudinous praise of its work; then this emphasizes a regrettable tendency to self-satisfaction in our midst.

There are absolute standards in art, which need have no reference to the size of the city or the money available, and while there is any room for improvement, critics must point out our shortcomings, and if we are mature enough we will learn from them.

Things Changing Fast

In January of 1901 I happened to be in London, England, and was 21 years old when I enlisted in the then Baden Powell's South African Constabulary in England, and put in very nearly two years of service. I was then discharged from service in November, 1902, not being able to speak native and Dutch languages.

Looking over the years I see just what a mess South Africa has got into. The Boers at that time were very hard on the native. The country was of great wealth in minerals, gold and diamonds and miles of open veld country, of course. Things today are changing very fast.

HERBERT VIGOR,

Cruelty to Chicks

Anytime now we may expect to see a city firm advertising baby chicks to be given away.

Just for a few dollars to be spent in the store and the hapless little birds are handed over to be mauled by children or neglected because the children are tired of them and the mother cannot be bothered.

I have had children come here trying to sell the miserable, forlorn little creatures. One time on a bitterly cold day in an open box were four half dead chickens. I would have liked to have bought them and given them a merciful and swift end, but I realized that if once children thought they could make money by peddling the poor things around, the situation would be even worse than it is.

If these unwanted birds must be disposed of, it should be in lots of a dozen or two, and then only those who had a commercial interest in them and intended to feed and house them properly would apply, and much suffering and often cruelty, unintentional perhaps, but still cruelty, would be eliminated.

CAPE TOWN:

Climax in Apartheid?

By STANLEY UYS

SOUTH AFRICA has entered a grim new period of strife following Dr. Verwoerd's decision to break with the Commonwealth. A wave of emotionalism is sweeping over the Government's Afrikaner supporters while fear and hostility are engulfing the English-speaking section.

The atmosphere of conciliation which the Government had been trying to build up between the two white sections before the Commonwealth conference began has disappeared overnight. Now the two groups are at each other's throats again.

Attitudes are also hardening among the country's 12 million non-whites. For the first time their leaders are hinting publicly at the possible use of violence.

Some observers believe the climax is near in the struggle against Afrikaner rule and apartheid. Either Dr. Verwoerd will be beaten, they say, or else he will emerge as a fully fledged totalitarian ruler.

The South African Premier's personal "build-up" has been fantastic. No other Union Prime Minister, not even General Smuts ever experienced anything like it. Dr. Verwoerd, formerly a professor of applied psychology, is a master propagandist. His handling of the present crisis has been one propaganda victory after another. Even his anti-British record has not prevented him bringing back a pedigree British bulldog as a symbol of South Africa's continuing friendship with Britain.

If Dr. Verwoerd suffered defeat at the London conference by being forced out of the Commonwealth, he is successfully cloaking this defeat in the regalia of victory.

South Africans are being told that as a result of the withdrawal from the Commonwealth relations with Britain will improve, trade will flourish, and, generally, the situation will be much better because South Africa has discarded its false Afro-Asian "friends."

Some Opposition leaders suspect Dr. Verwoerd of going to the London conference with the firm intention of contriving South Africa's "forced" withdrawal. They say the current jubilation of his extremist followers, who are the controlling force in the Nationalist Government, does not accord with his expressed desire for continued membership of the Commonwealth.

No Admirer

It has always been the aim of this group to pull the Union out, and Dr. Verwoerd, himself, is no admirer of the Commonwealth.

The white Opposition is urgently assembling its forces. Its plans are still half-formed, but there are disturbing rumors from the English-speaking province of Natal that the semi-secret semi-military organization, calling itself "The Horticulturalists," is determined to take "positive" action.

The Parliamentary Opposition parties are arranging nation-wide meetings; the pro-monarchist Federal Party in Natal and the Women of the Black Sash are preparing protest marches; and various other organizations and groups are adding their protests.

Dr. Verwoerd, in fact, will be fighting on two fronts: white and non-white. He has gone into action on both fronts already. His propaganda drive to form a white front has been accompanied by the arrests of certain non-white leaders who were planning an all-African convention in Pietermaritzburg to resist the Republic, due on May 31.

At a Sharpeville anniversary meeting in Cape Town a colored spokesman predicted that the Government would get tougher now with its non-white opponents.

The Minister of Defence has warned, too, that the Government will show no mercy in suppressing internal disturbances. Coupled with the 20 per cent increase in defence expenditure this year is the announcement that the defence force will divert its attention against possible external aggression to support of the police in the suppression of internal trouble.

As this crisis atmosphere mounts, many English-speaking citizens are thinking of quitting the country. An emigration wave, similar to the one which followed the Sharpeville shootings last year, is expected.

Non-white leaders are not as pessimistic though. Mr. Oscar Mphahlele, former Cape chairman of the banned African National Congress, has described the African people's "gratitude and relief" at the Commonwealth's stand against race discrimination.

First Victory

This is a "victory against apartheid," he said. "It's the first real victory Africans have ever had. If South Africa had stayed in the Africans would have regarded it as a sell-out and the Commonwealth would have stood condemned in their eyes."

Faced with this sharpening political clash on two fronts, Dr. Verwoerd will be hard pressed to cope with the trouble which will come from other directions.

Now that the Commonwealth's protective shield has been removed, international pressures are likely to build up rapidly. These pressures are welcomed by non-white political organizations here who believe that if the outside world acts quickly and vigorously then a peaceful solution of a grim situation is possible.

Serious strains may also be felt on the economic side. The Government is making strenuous efforts to maintain bilateral trade treaties if some Commonwealth preferences are lost, but the immediate anxiety in official circles is over the withdrawal of foreign capital.

After the Sharpeville shootings many foreign investors decided that the country was no longer sufficiently politically stable for investment purposes. A big withdrawal of foreign capital ensued—and is likely to be accelerated now.

Finally, as the situation worsens—and every objective observer thinks it will worsen—tensions will be created within Dr. Verwoerd's own party. Opposition leaders declare that when this stage is reached South Africa will be ripe for a change of government.

They are not forgetting, though, that Dr. Verwoerd is a vigorous, determined man and that he has massive resources to help him in maintaining Nationalist Government rule. (London Observer Service)

Eyes to the Hill

THE old-timer, walking his dog on the hard sand of Foul Bay Beach before going to bed, can lift his eyes to the hill and behold a small miracle.

Under the night sky of his boyhood, Gonzales loomed a heavier bulk in the darkness, topped by the ghostly white of the observatory. Now, a score of lights gleam from the windows of homes that have grown on the barren rock.

By their radiance he can see the passing of his earlier, cherished and personal wilderness. This was the ground on which he and his dauntless fellows fought childhood's last Indian battles. There they climbed their own Everest. Mounting unfenced pinnacles, they could stand, like stout Cortez silent on a peak in Darien.

Stott

A boy, equipped with newspaper-wrapped sandwiches in a brown paper bag, a bottle of home-made lemonade and his brittle bow and arrows whittled from beachwood, could find adventure there from morning to late afternoon.

At this season he and his fellows toiled upward, spying out the land for the first patches of wild lilies growing in the scrub oak thickets. They frod the wet, spongy moss in quest of what they called bluebells, the deep purple flowers with orange stamens that grew gay and dainty in the moss itself.

They could quest about for patches of new briar, marking them in their minds for later berry picking. They could size up the small forked branches of the growing oak for slingshot prongs, waiting until the sap ran freely to give them strength.

They could drop down into small woods and scan the trees and bushes for the first sign of birds' nests.

But chiefly they climbed the hill for the climbing and for the bright fantasies the upthrusts and gullies planted and nourished in young minds.

They scaled the face of a perpendicular cliff on the northeast side, searching for the spot where, a season before, fly-catchers had built a cunning home for their tiny brood.

They dropped into shallow crevices, waiting-in-ambush for prowling enemies. They moved out triumphantly to the sloping field they called Peacock Plain, where in winter the snow gave them unobstructed sled runs. They skated its edge to the point where water made fine pools, almost big enough for skating when the temperature fell, perfect for sailing small boats carved from shingles and mounted with square sails torn from newspaper on warmer days.

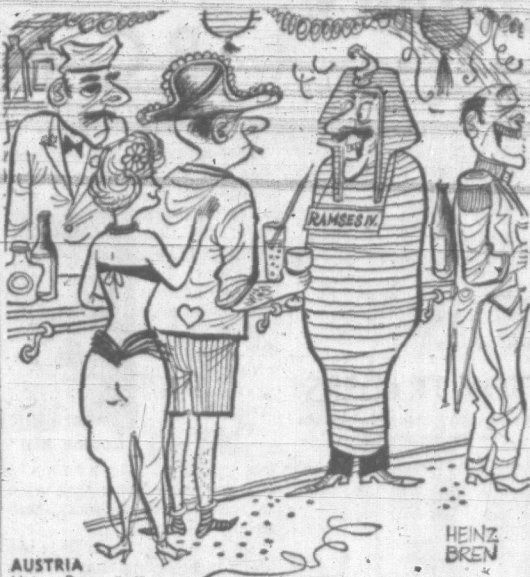

The hill is still there. The oak thickets have gone, or been neatly trimmed to conform to landscaped grounds. Lilies and bluebells will bloom again in the few remaining wild spots. But in the hollows, new flowers have come. Daffodils thrown from some garden have taken hold and glow yellow when the sun is bright—fine flowers, clean and sweet, but introduced where shy plants once hid.

A boy, escaping imaginary attackers in a wild scramble down an escarpment, can find himself trespassing now in the well-tended yard of a recent home.

A family, out for a Sunday walk, can avoid the stream of cars that throngs the roadway over the hill and can climb to a cairn carrying a bronze plaque. There its members can read lines defining an impressive, near-legendary era in the country's history. But the family, climbing, follows constructed paths, treads masonry steps.

This is no longer the haunt of sure-footed, half-wild creatures who were boys roaming Gonzales in an earlier day.

An old-timer walking the beach and lifting his eyes to the hill, whence come pieces of a vanished past, thinks on these things. His eyes still uplifted, he steps into a pool left by the receding tide. The profanity he utters is only in part for the vexation of wet feet. Some of it is for change which is inexorable. But he doesn't have to like it.

Federal Drug Price Probe Urged by B.C.

The B.C. legislature Monday unanimously approved a call for a federal investigation into the high cost of drugs.

The motion came from Bert Price (SC—Vancouver-Burrard).

"Even the hospitals are seriously questioning the high cost of drugs today," said Mr. Price. They are considering setting up their own agency to handle them, he said.

"The public owes a vote of thanks to newspapers like the Victoria Times for publishing its series on this problem," said Mr. Price.

A special Times series recently examined the whole question of drug costs.

Mr. Price said many people are paying an extremely high penalty for their illnesses. He said Health Minister Martin was spending $30 a month on drugs.

Mr. Price said even doctors concede the prices are too high.

Attorney-General Robert Bonner said the government fully endorsed Mr. Price's proposal.

It was the duty of the federal government to set up an inquiry "expeditiously."

Sit, Wait Decision Forced On CCF by Bennett Threat

The CCF agreed to sit and wait for the Ross Report on mental health in B.C. after Premier Bennett Monday threatened to withdraw authorization for $100,000 to implement some of its recommendations.

The premier promised the legislature the government would spend "ten times that amount" if needed this year to follow the ideas expressed in the report.

The Opposition's last attack on the government for refusing to disclose details of the Ross Report came during debate on health department estimates.

The $100,000 was among them.

"Doesn't add up?" Opposition Leader Robert Strachan, backed by Dave Barrett of Dewdney and Gordon Dowding of Burnaby, plugged away at the government to drive home the CCF's violent protest about the lack of information.

"It just doesn't add up," said Mr. Barrett.

The MLAs were being asked to vote the money but didn't know what it would be used for.

The premier said the amount of $100,000 was "recommended by experts" as necessary at this time as "a block vote."

"If during the year they require ten times that amount we'll make it available."

Angered by the constant sniping, the premier said: "We'll withdraw this vote and take it off the estimates if this House opposes it."

Arthur Turner (CCF—Vancouver East) summed up: "We're hoping and believing it's a good report," he said.

If only the recommendations, at least, had been circulated, then the Opposition would have been quieter.

It was the refusal of Health Minister Eric Martin to table the report that sparked a night-long debate last Friday. Mr. Martin was home in bed sick on Monday after the premier announced he had been forced to leave the House Friday night.

Finally, after an hour-long afternoon debate Monday, the mental health estimates were approved, including the $100,000 for the APA, on a voice vote.

HOME GARDEN

Behead Mare's Tails

Most gardeners will be familiar with the weed called Mare's Tail, especially those who have a heavy clay soil retentive of moisture.

It is a weed that is more provoking than couch grass because the underground runners by which it spreads penetrate deeply and break readily when pulled.

The plant is thought to be a relic of prehistoric days at which time it grew to the size of the big timber trees of today. As competition from other vegetation has become less it now manages very nicely without going to any great lengths.

It is our misfortune that this plant did not disappear entirely during the ages as did so many more desirable plants. Because it has remained it is now the gardener's No. 2 problem; No. 1 being morning glory.

Mare's Tails propagate by seed as well as by underground stems, and the flower stems are now proudly sporting themselves. They resemble very closely the later appearing stems which bear only foliage, excepting for a noticeable pinkness to their coloring.

The tops of the stems are shaped like the nose cone of a rocket, and appear to be brown with horizontal bands of white. On close inspection under a magnifying glass the brown proves to be the centres of individual flowers and the white bands are the petals, each flower looking very much like a miniature daisy.

Interesting as they may be to study, their presence should not be tolerated in the garden, for one head is capable of spreading thousands of seeds.

The wise gardener shouts: "Off with their heads!" and swinging his cutlass he suits action to word. The heads are worth collecting, that is, in a paper bag for burning.

OTTAWA (CP) — A draft policy program for the new political party being formed by the CCF and the Canadian Labor Congress has been agreed upon by the New Party committee.

The program, subject of weekend meetings of the committee, goes to a subcommittee and will be released to the public by the end of next month, committee secretary Carl Hamilton said today.

Founding convention will be here starting July 31.

Buda Brown Gets $8,500 As Record Set Straight

The government Monday straightened out the salary question of Mrs. Buda Brown, only B.C. minister without portfolio.

A representational allowance of $3,500 was approved, bringing her total salary—with her MLA's $5,000 indemnity—to $8,500.

Earlier it was believed she would receive $12,500 under a special amendment to the Constitution Act.

But Premier Bennett said Mrs. Brown will get only

$3,500 extra—as budgeted in the estimates.

Commented Opposition leader Robert Strachan: "We wish her well in handling these difficult people in the cabinet."

Liberal Leader Ray Perault hoped Mrs. Brown would become minister of consumer affairs, a department which he proposed should be created in B.C.

Said Mrs. Brown. "I hope to be able to give you a real proper answer as to what I have done next year."

Liberal leader Ray Perrault was thoroughly roasted in the legislature a few weeks ago by both government and CCF opposition supporters. At this time is putting second-best foot forward in approaching the whole of the investment world.

estimates of B.C. was less than inviting at the present time.

To even hint at such a thing, Gordon Bell and his political opponents charged, was something akin to treason and, anyway, was simply not true.

However, Mr. Perrault is not alone in believing that there is a lack of investor confidence in this province.

The monthly report of the Vancouver Stock Exchange,

"Still potentially the most prosperous and fastest-growing province in Canada, it is not realizing on this potential and investment money needed

Montreal Business Review contains encouraging news that 1961 Canadian-capital investment, officially forecast to run about equal to last year, may rise somewhat higher.

The official forecast, the bank points out, was made at a time when the prevailing mood was one of caution, so if a turning point is more clearly seen more businesses can be expected to revise capital investment plans upward.

Merit Oil Ltd. shareholders have approved the deal whereby Canadian Husky Oil Ltd. takes over all assets and undertakings of Merit, including $1,750,000 in accounts and notes receivable, interest in of Canadian risky and shares for another 39 shares at $14 per share to 14, 1964. Shares or warrants are to be sold for a month period.

A new B.C. securities was hoped for from this sion of the legislature but is another piece of law-making which has had to be held to a later date.

Main reason for dropping the new act, as with a number of other pieces of legislation including a new petrol and-natural gas act, seems to be simply that the cabinet had not time to deal with amidst the pressure of other business.

WINNIPEG (CR)—The sale of Manitoba savings bonds is expected to soar beyond $32,000,000, four times greater than the provincial government's maximum target when it put the issue on the market.

Premier Duff Roblin announced to the legislature Monday night that investors had put up $29,246,000 by the time the six-day sale ended at the close of business Monday.

He later said there are still some "odds and ends" to come

The Bonds of Australia have long enjoyed a high investment rating

Mr. Roblin admitted the sale "surpassed my most optimistic expectations. It is a very tremendous demonstration of public confidence in the government of the province."

He said the money has not been earmarked for any special program. It will be used for general purposes.

BCE Export Bid Draws Protests

VANCOUVER (CP)—British Columbia Electric Company Limited's licence application to export power to the United States came in for some opposition Monday during the National Energy Board's first hearings in western Canada.

Opposition came from the B.C. Power Commission, the Vancouver and District Labor Council (CLC) and the B.C. Federation of Labor (CLC).

Asking deferment of the application until the province's power situation has been clarified, J. L. Wilson, for B.C. Hydro, said large export licences would conflict with agreements which have yet to be worked out on the development of the Columbia River.

He said the B.C. Energy Board is working on plans for a provincial transmission grid.

Devonian Gets $5.10 Share Offer

TORONTO (CP)—Guaranty Trust Co. of Canada, acting on behalf of unnamed Canadian clients, Monday offered to purchase from shareholders of Canadian Devonian Petroleum Ltd. 1,500,000 shares at $5.10 a share.

The share offer is open until April 24, but acceptance will be dealt with on a first-come-first-serve basis, the company said.

Canadian Devonian closed on the Toronto Stock Exchange Monday at $5 a share compared with a high for the year of $5.15 and a low of $4.05.

British American Oil Co. Ltd. made an earlier bid of $4.95 a share to shareholders.

Canadian Devonian has an authorized share capital of 5,000,000 shares of which 3,429,000 are outstanding.

Sea Fish Landings Jumped in February

OTTAWA (CP)—Canadian landings of sea fish and shellfish climbed in February to 128,071,000 pounds from 77,184,000 in the corresponding month last year.

The Dominion Bureau of Statistics has reported the landed value dropped to $2,566,000 from $2,602,000.

The catch on the west coast was up to 88,847,000 pounds of value of $1,016,000 from 30,071,000 pounds worth $637,000.

MACHINERY PURCHASES TAKE DROP

OTTAWA (CP)—Canadian importers cut down last year on purchases of machinery—this country's biggest import item.

Imports of non-farm machinery declined almost one per cent to $579,800,000 from $585,200,000 in 1959, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics reported today.

The inflow of foreign farm implements and machinery fell more sharply, down 16.5 per cent to $228,700,000 from $273,800,000.

Trading Bloc Said 'Real Threat' to Canada

MONTREAL (CP)—G. Armand Hart, president of the Bank of Montreal, said Monday the European Common Market constitutes "a real threat" to the Canadian economy.

"We're going to have to learn hard work and co-operation between management and labor if we're going to compete over there," Mr. Hart told a press conference.

He returned during the weekend from a six-week tour of Belgium, France and West Germany—three members of the six-nation trade bloc.

"The quality of goods you buy over there is very superior," the president said.

Things are built to last 10 or 15 years.

Particularly in France, labor, management and government were working together closely. France had made a "remarkable recovery" in the last four years.

Belgium had been "badly shaken" by the Congo flare-ups and a strike last year but there was nothing to suggest the economy was threatened. Productivity was high and the Belgian franc had retained its value.

There was fear in West Germany of a further revaluation of the mark in September after the country's next elections. The recent five-per-cent revaluation had "upset" many Germans, Mr. Hart said.

"We found an air of gloom when we arrived in Hamburg the day the move was announced," he said. "It came as a complete surprise."

The ship-building industry, already facing stiff competition from Japanese firms, was affected adversely and the textile industry was threatened.

Dodgers Have Depth - And Plenty of 'Ifs'

By LEO H. PETERSEN
VERO BEACH, Fla. (UPI) — This is the year a lot of the baseball experts expect Los Angeles Dodgers' youth movement to pay off although manager Walter Alston isn't so sure.

There are too many "ifs" on the club to satisfy Alston. Not that he doesn't think the Dodgers can win, but to do it he pointed out that:

"Our kids are going to have to come through. Our pitchers are going to have to find the strike zone. Our catching has to improve. Our hitting has to improve. And the few veterans we have left like Gil Hodges and Duke Snider are going to have to do better."

If all that should jell, then Alston feels the Dodgers "have a real shot at it."

"It simply boils down to this," Alston said. "Of the contending clubs, the one which has all of its players live up to their potential will win. That's how we won in 1959 and how the Pirates won last year."

He named the Pirates, Braves, Cardinals and Giants in the contending group along with the Dodgers, and also gave the Reds "an outside chance, for they always play like champions against us."

Alston is experimenting with his youth.

He is trying Frank Howard, who can hit the ball as far as anyone, at first base, and another outfielder, Tommy Davis, at third base. The Howard move appears doomed to failure, thus leaving the berth to Norm Larker, who lost out by two percentage points to Dick Groat of the Pirates in the 1960 National League batting championship race.

If Howard should surprise and make it at first, Larker would be put in the outfield. There's where Tommy Davis will wind-up, too, if he doesn't make it at third.

STRONG PITCHING

Pitching is about the only department on the club which is set.

Don Drysdale (15-14), Johnny Podres (14-12), Roger Craig (8-3), Sandy Koufax (8-13), and Stan Williams (14-10) will be regular starters with Larry Sherry also, getting a shot at starting roles if he's not needed for relief. Sherry, the Dodgers' World Series relief ace of 1959, began last season as a starter but then was shifted back to the bullpen and wound up with a 14-10 record. Ed Reebuck (8-3) also will be one of the top relievers.

Big Don Newcombe (6-9) may stick with the club for which he was a star for many years. Although he has lost the zip off his fast ball, he has been impressive thus far this spring.

SHARING DUTIES

John Roseboro, who slumped to 213 last season, and Norm Sherry, who will share the catching duties with Hodges, who can play first, third or the outfield, also available behind the plate if needed.

Only three of the infield and outfield spots are set.

Maury Wills, who blossomed into a star last season, will be at short and Charley Neal at second.

Wally Moon in left is sure of a regular job in the outfield.

There is no doubt the potential is there for the Dodgers appear to be three deep at every position. But Alston remembers that the Dodgers finished fourth last year after winning the pennant and the series in 1959 so he isn't going out on a limb on his club as a lot of the baseball experts

"I know! I know! Yogi Berra was a funny looking kid you'd never think he'd be a ballplayer, when he first came to the majors!"

Tide's Performance Overshadows Result

By MICHAEL ROSE

It must be considered a tragedy that Victoria rugby fans will have to wait until next season to get another look at the Crimson Tide.

With only two games and a few workouts under their belts, the city reps turned in an outstanding brand of rugby Monday night at Royal Athletic Park although dropping a 14-13 exhibition decision to the highly-touted University of California Golden Bears.

Distinguished more for individual performance than for team play in the past, Tide displayed a crisp, closely-knit style that delighted over 1,000 fans.

Much of the credit is due coach Peter Clarke and if this is to be their future standard of play the team deserves an expanded schedule next season.

BEARS SPEEDY

Tide faced a young, beefy but fast Bear team bolstered by several graduate students, including some who had learned their game in Australia and England.

Tide had the best of the play for most of the half and only an unfortunate tendency to be caught offside prevented the Victoria from romping further into Bear territory.

A late tackle penalty allowed Cal kicking ace John Harrison to boot a clean 50-yard goal at the 15-minute mark to give the visitors a 3-0 lead.

BURGESS SPARKLES

Ten minutes later Don Burgess, whose kicking and broken field running was an outstanding feature of the game, cross-kicked to Sonny Vickery, who evened the score. The Tide went ahead 5-3 when Burgess notched the conversion from nearly in front of the posts.

Dennis Hoyle crossed the line for Victoria at 10 minutes of the second half and Burgess converted to make the score 10-3.

Not long after, Tide were again offside and Harrison made no mistake with a 30-yard penalty kick.

At this point, Bears began to employ superior brawn in a spoiling game with emphasis on loose forward rushes and the clean, classical play that had characterized the game turned into a fly-backing duel.

Bears' John Papini intercepted a pass and Tom Fraser went over. The kick by Jess Pittore was ruled good by one touch judge and referee Dave McKenzie.

With 15 minutes left in the game Cal winger Rudi Carvajal came in from his wing to the stand-off position and broke through from a five-yard scrum for an unconverted try.

Tide then pressed and a quick lineout throw by Burgess to Vickery allowed the big forward to score close to the touch line.

Kicking from a bad angle, Burgess missed on his attempt but was given another chance when Bears charged early. His second attempt also missed.

The outstanding player on both teams was Burgess, whose deceptive running and uncanny ability to kick for touch through a mass of tacklers accounted for much of Tide's yardage.

The short stand-off attempted a drop-goal from 30 yards which hit the cross-bar and fell short.

Get Lennie and They'll Oblige!

WASHINGTON—The Kennedy administration, advancing its new frontier into an uncharted land of lumbering giants, is seeking to force racial integration of a professional football team.

Interior Secretary Stewart L. Udall wrote a polite but firm letter to Washington Redskins owner George Preston Marshall implying that the capita's entry in the National Football League must hire Negro players, or else.

The colorful owner of the Redskins, in a spontaneous reaction that departed somewhat from normal diplomatic terms, replied that "I don't know what the hell it's all about."

Marshall later commented that "if he'd get us Lennie Moore (star Negro halfback with Baltimore Colts) we'd be glad to use him."

Wicks Biggest Spender But Lost Seat to CCF

Social Credit spent $290,435 to get elected in 32 B.C. ridings last September, according to official figures supplied by the government.

Second highest spenders in the campaign were the Progressive Conservatives, who didn't win a single seat in the legislature. But they shelled out $106,633 in the failure.

The Liberals spent $36,737 to elect four M.L.A.s, while the CCF, which won 16 seats, spent only $29,872. Communists paid out $4,833.

The figures were supplied by Provincial Secretary Black in answer to a question on the legislature's order paper by Gordon Dowding (CCF-Burnaby). They were based on returns from party central committees.

The costliest riding of all was Dewdney.

Top money spender of all candidates was Lyle Wicks, who lost his seat and labor portfolio in the Social Credit

Foe of President Of Brazil Elected

SAO PAULO, Brazil (AP)—A 65-year-old conservative who attacked President Jânio Quadros' domestic and foreign policies took a landslide victory Monday in Sao Paulo's three-man race for mayor.

Political observers viewed the election of Francisco Prestes Maia as a sharp rebuff of the new president's austerity program for the neutralist foreign policy.

To many tribesmen in East Africa, the cow is a mystic possession without which life would be meaningless.

U.S. EMBASSY GUARDED AFTER BITTER ATTACK

LISBON (Reuters)—Police today guarded the United States Embassy in this Portuguese capital after they fired in the air and tossed tear gas to break up a rampaging anti-American mob of 100,000 Monday night.

The demonstrators stoned the embassy and smashed ink bottles against its walls. One demonstrator hurled himself through the plate glass window of the library on the embassy's ground floor.

They were protesting against American support in the United Nations for an investigation into conditions in the Portuguese West African colony of Angola.

How do I save?

I'm a working girl, so saving isn't the easiest thing in the world. But I've found how to make it easier ... I use the "Royal's" 2-Account Plan. I like the way it keeps my saving and my spending quite separate.

I use a Personal Chequing Account to pay bills. My Savings Account is strictly for saving. I'm really getting ahead, now I've stopped dipping into savings. They're building up, earn interest too ... it works!

SPINSTER CHARGED WITH MURDER

Look at Pups and Then...

GLASGOW (CP)—A 37-year-old spinster, Jean Barclay Waddell, accused of throwing five children out of a fourth-floor apartment window to the pavement 60 feet below, was charged today with the murder of one who died.

The macabre scene of small children hurtling to the pavement late Monday afternoon still held an entire neighborhood of Glasgow in a buzz of shocked excitement.

The first of the five to fall, Marjory Hughes, 4, died almost instantly.

Seven-year-old Daniel McNeil is on the critical list at Kilmear Hospital.

Also in-hospital but less seriously hurt are Thomas Devanny, 4; Margaret Lennon, 3, and her brother, Fran 7.

One report said the five children went into the apartment building "to look at some new-born pups."

One of the children was saved when a neighbor in the stom district, hearing their cries, rushed out and broke the fall of one. He thought it was one of his own youngsters crying.

B.C. Considers BCE Takeover

The B.C. government Monday officially agreed to "consider the advisability" of taking over B.C. Electric.

With a slight amendment, the Social Crediters approved a CCF motion in the legislature calling for study of public ownership of B.C. Electric and the East and West Kootenay Power companies.

The move startled Opposition Leader Robert Strachan, but it followed up Premier Bennett's earlier suggestion that if B.C. does not get a fair return on taxes paid by these companies to Ottawa, then they should be taken over.

Many Motions

Attorney-General Robert Bonner said the government accepted Mr. Strachan's motion provided he would strike out a phrase saying the utilities charge too high a price for electricity in order to win profits for their shareholders.

This is the final motion, unanimously approved in the House.

"That in view of the fact the private power companies are required to pay corporation tax, the government consider the advisability of placing the B.C. Electric and the East and West Kootenay power companies under public ownership in accordance with the Power Act."

The legislature whisked through a long list of motions in order to prorogue at 5 p.m.

Another which received unanimous approval was a plea to the federal government to follow a policy of nuclear disarmament and to keep nuclear weapons off Canadian soil.

CCFer Astounded

This was another CCF move, proposed by Camille Mather of Delta.

She, too, was astounded when the government accepted it.

Not only that, it was greeted with thumping applause from all parties.

Another motion accepted by the government was for consideration of a local tax amnesty for homeowners who improve their own properties, as proposed by Donald Smith (S.C. Victoria).

Among the rejects was one from George Hobbs (CCF, Revelstoke) asking the government to table the Grippen-Wright engineering report, a secret document which has assisted B.C. in Columbia River power treaty negotiations.

This drew a blast from Mr. Strachan.

Aid for Jobless

"I don't know how many carpenters you keep busy building special pigeon-holes for secret reports," he said, "but it must do a great deal to alleviate the unemployment problem."

Another bid for government takeover of a private utility—the B.C. Telephone Co.—was also turned down.

It was moved by Tony Gargrave (CCF, Mackenzie). Mr. Strachan said the telephone company was "a natural monopoly."

Mr. Bonner said the government was forced to reject the move. It would require something in the nature of a federal constitutional amendment anyway, he said.

It was certainly not a provincial matter.

A CCF proposal for a compulsory government auto insurance scheme also was turned down.

Ethiopian to Die

ADDIS ABABA, Ethiopia (Reuters) — Gen. Manghistu Neway, former commander of the Ethiopian imperial guard, was sentenced today to be hanged in public for his part in last October's abortive coup against Emperor Haile Selassie.

'Nobody Excluded' From PUC Job

The fourth member of the B.C. Public Utilities Commission has not yet been appointed, Premier Bennett said Monday.

"The job has been offered to no one up to the present," the premier told CCF leader Robert Strachan during debate on estimates for the PUC.

"When the premier has made up his mind about this appointment, he will advise the people of the province."

Gordon Dowling (CCF—Burnaby) asked if there was any truth in the rumor the premier would appoint former labor minister Lyle Wicks (defeated in the last election) to the PUC.

"I don't pay any attention to rumors," answered the premier. "At the same time I may say I have not excluded anyone."

Annual meeting of the B.C. Agricultural Association will be held at 8 p.m. April 12, in city hall council chambers.

The association was formed 100 years ago.

One of the main activities in this area is development of an area in Colwood, a former army camp, as an exhibition site.

CCF Drops Bid to Oust Matthew As Bonner Praises His Fairness

Deputy Speaker Alex Matthew retained his office Monday as the CCF withdrew a motion calling for his dismissal from the legislative post because of bias.

Attorney-General Robert Bonner insisted that Mr. Matthew had at all times acted extremely fairly.

What sparked the CCF motion of non-confidence in Mr. Matthew, and an angry debate a week ago, was a letter he wrote to a Vancouver newspaper upbraiding critics of the government's new labor laws. He signed it as deputy speaker.

Mr. Matthew stayed out of the House throughout the debate Monday.

Mr. Bonner termed the CCF move "regrettable and unnecessary."

"It was written in the white heat of anger following a disturbance in this House," said Mr. Bonner.

Mr. Bonner said Mr. Matthew as Social Credit MLA for Vancouver Centre had participated in all debates and discussions in the legislature. It was impossible to say he had no opinions. But when in the Speaker's chair there was no evidence he had been biased.

Randolph Harding (CCF, Kaslo-Slocan) said the CCF had intended to withdraw the motion anyway, but wanted to point out what it thought was a wrong situation.

"We ask assurance of this never taking place again," he said.

Nightmare of a Two-Front War

(Ninth of a Series)
(Adapted from "The Rise and Fall of the Third Reich," published by Simon and Schuster, and copyrighted by William L. Shirer, 1960.)

While Hitler was busy in the summer of 1940 directing the conquest of the West, Stalin was taking advantage of the Fuehrer's preoccupations by moving into the Baltic States and reaching down into the Balkans.

On the surface all was friendly between the two great dictatorships. Molotov, acting for Stalin, lost no opportunity to praise and flatter the Germans on every occasion of a new act of aggression or a fresh conquest. On June 14, the day German troops entered Paris, the Soviet government sent a nine-hour ultimatum to Lithuania demanding the resignation of its government, the arrest of some of its key officials and the right to send in as many Red Army troops as it pleased.

Though the Lithuanian government accepted the ultimatum, Moscow deemed its acceptance "unsatisfactory," and the next day, June 15, Soviet troops occupied the country, the only one of the Baltic States to border on Germany. During the next couple of days similar Soviet ultimatums were dispatched to Latvia and Estonia, after which they were similarly overrun by the Red Army.

Stalin could be as crude and as ruthless in these matters as Hitler—and even more cynical. The press having been suppressed, the political leaders arrested and all parties but the Communist declared illegal, "elections" were staged by the Russians in all three countries on July 14, and after the respective parliaments thus "elected" had voted for the incorporation of their lands into the Soviet Union, the Supreme Soviet (Parliament) of Russia "admitted" them into the motherland. Adolf Hitler was humiliated, but, busy as he was trying to organize the invasion of Britain, could do nothing about it.

Stalin Unsatisfied

The seizure of the Baltic States did not satisfy Stalin's appetite. On June 23, the day after the French formally capitulated and signed the armistice at Compiègne, Molotov called in the Nazi ambassador in Moscow and told him that the solution of the Bessarabian question brooked no further delay.

The Soviet government was determined to use force, should the Rumanian government decline a peaceful agreement. It expected Germany, Molotov added, "not to hinder but to support the Soviets in their action."

There was some alarm in Berlin. The Wehrmacht was desperately dependent on Rumanian oil and Germany needed the foodstuffs and fodder it also got from this Balkan country. These would be lost if the Red army occupied Rumania.

On the night of June 26 Russia delivered an ultimatum to Rumania demanding the ceding to it of Bessarabia and northern Bucovina and insisting on a reply the next day. Ribbentrop, Nazi foreign minister, in panic, dashed off instructions from his special train to his minister in Bucharest telling him to advise the Rumanian government to yield, which it did on June 27.

Soviet troops marched into the newly-acquired territories the next day and Berlin breathed a sigh of relief that at least the rich sources of oil and food had not been cut off by Russia's grabbing the whole of Rumania.

It is clear from his acts and from the secret German papers that though Stalin was out to get all he could in Eastern Europe while the Germans were tied down in the West, he did not wish or contemplate a break with Hitler.

Churchill Warning
Toward the end of June, Churchill tried to warn Stalin in a personal letter of the danger of the German conquests to Russia as well as to Britain.

My family is looked after...

MONTREAL TRUST Company
Victoria Office:
1111 Government Street
Phone EV 3-3135

tor did not bother to answer; probably, like almost everyone else, he thought Britain was finished. So he tattled to the Germans what the British government was up to.

Sir Stafford Cripps, a left-wing Labor party leader, whom the prime minister had rushed to Moscow as the new British ambassador, was received by Stalin early in July in an interview that Churchill described as "formal and frigid." On July 13 Molotov, on Stalin's instructions, handed the German ambassador a written memorandum of this confidential conversation.

It is an interesting document, all reveals, as no other source does, the severe limitations of the Soviet dictator in his cold calculations of foreign affairs. Cripps had pressed Stalin, for his attitude on this principal question, among others: "The British government was convinced that Germany was striving for hegemony in Europe. This was dangerous to the Soviet Union as well as England. Therefore both countries ought to agree on a common policy of self-protection against Germany and on the re-establishment of the European balance of power..."

Stalin's answers are given as follows: "He did not see any danger of the hegemony of any one country in Europe and still less any danger that Europe might be engulfed by Germany. Stalin observed the policy of Germany, and knew several leading German statesmen well. He had not discovered any desire on their part to engulf European countries. Stalin was not of the opinion that German military successes menaced the Soviet Union and her friendly relations with Germany."

Such staggering smugness, such abysmal ignorance leave one breathless. The Russian tyrant did not know, of course, the secrets of Hitler's turgid mind, but the Fuehrer's past behavior, his known ambitions and the unexpectedly rapid Nazi conquests ought to have been enough to warn him of the dire danger the Soviet Union was now in. But, incomprehensibly, they were not enough.

From the captured Nazi documents and from the testimony of many leading German figures in the great drama that was being played over the vast expanse of Western Europe that year, it is plain that at the very moment of Stalin's monumental complacency Hitler had in fact been mulling over in his mind the idea of turning on the Soviet Union and destroying her.

The basic idea went back much further, at least 15 years—to "Mein Kampf." "And so we National Socialists (Hitler wrote) take up where we broke off six hundred years ago. We stop the endless German movement toward the south and west of Europe and turn our gaze toward the lands of the East. When we speak of new territory in Europe today we must think principally of Russia and her border vassal states. "Destiny itself seems to wish to point out the way to us here... This colossal empire in the East is ripe for dissolution, and the end of the Jewish domination in Russia will also be the end of Russia as a state."

On the night of June 26 Russia delivered an ultimatum to Rumania demanding the ceding to it of Bessarabia and northern Bucovina and insisting on a reply the next day. Ribbentrop, Nazi foreign minister, in panic, dashed off instructions from his special train to his minister in Bucharest telling him to advise the Rumanian government to yield, which it did on June 27.

Soviet troops marched into the newly-acquired territories the next day and Berlin breathed a sigh of relief that at least the rich sources of oil and food had not been cut off by Russia's grabbing the whole of Rumania.

It is clear from his acts and from the secret German papers that though Stalin was out to get all he could in Eastern Europe while the Germans were tied down in the West, he did not wish or contemplate a break with Hitler.

THE BLACK HEART OF HITLER

BY WILLIAM L. SHIRER

This idea lay like bedrock in Hitler's mind, and his non-aggression pact with Stalin had not changed it at all, but merely postponed acting on it. And but briefly.

In fact, less than two months after the deal was signed on August 24 the Fuehrer instructed the Army that the conquered Polish territory was to be regarded "as an assembly area for future German operations." The date was October 18, 1939, and General Halder recorded it that day in his diary.

Five weeks later, on November 23, when he harangued his reluctant generals about attacking in the west, Russia was by no means out of his mind. "We can oppose Russia," he declared, "only when we are free in the west."

At that time the two-front war, the nightmare of German generals for a century, was very much on Hitler's mind, and he spoke of it at length on this occasion. He would not repeat the mistake of former German rulers; he would continue to see to it that the army had one front at a time.

It was only natural, then, that with the fall of France, the chasing of the British Army across the Channel and the prospects of Britain's imminent collapse, Hitler's thoughts should turn once again to Russia. For he now supposed himself to be free in the west and thereby to have achieved the one condition he had laid down in order to be in a position to "oppose Russia."

The rapidly with which Stalin seized the Baltic States and the two Rumanian provinces in June spurred Hitler to a decision.

Western Campaign
The moment of its making can now be traced. General Jodl says that the "fundamental decision" was taken "as far back as during the western campaign." Colonel Walter Warlimont, Jodl's deputy at OKW, remembers that on July 29 Jodl announced at a meeting of operations staff officers that "Hitler intended to attack the U.S.S.R. in the spring of 1941."

Sometime previous to this meeting, Jodl related, Hitler had told General Keitel "that he intended to launch the attack against the U.S.S.R. during the fall of 1940." But this was too much even for Keitel and he had argued Hitler out of it by contending that not only the bad weather in the autumn but the difficulties of transferring the bulk of the army from the west to the east made it impossible.

By the time of this conference on July 29, Warlimont relates, "the date for the intended attack (against Russia) had been moved back to the spring of 1941." On June 23, the Germans attacked.

After impressive initial victories by Hitler's armies, the Russians were down, but not out. Then Hitler's faulty grasp of strategy came to their aid.

The German generals wanted to capture Moscow. Already, the gigantic Central Army Group was moving rapidly toward the city. But suddenly Hitler decided he wanted first to take Leningrad in the north and the Ukraine grain belt in the south. He wanted Leningrad for prestige, and the Ukraine for food.

The generals strenuously objected to Hitler's change of strategy, but he cut them short.

The drive toward Moscow was halted. When Hitler tried to resume the push on Moscow after several weeks, it was too late. The cruel Russian winter, which had brought disaster to Napoleon, had arrived. With it came vast Russian reinforcements.

As the Germans approached Moscow—one company actually broke into a suburb from which its men could see the spires of the Kremlin—the Russians turned on the Germans with 100 fresh divisions and began to drive them back. The date was Dec. 6, 1941. Hitler's blundering strategy had brought the hitherto invincible German Army its first defeat of the war.

Chopping Blows Face City's Works Budget

Cut Out
At Start

City public works committee today began an intensive attack on preliminary 1961 estimates totalling some $3,883,000—up about $1,797,000 from last year.

The committee's budget alone could boost taxes by about 17 mills if all the proposed improvements were adopted and paid out of this year's levy.

Among new projects contributing to the higher estimates are proposals to extend Blanshard Street to Douglas, revamp the Johnson-Wharf intersection and install a modern lighting system downtown, $21,150 CUT

Committee members began cutting at the estimates by chopping $21,150 in small amounts from relatively fixed maintenance budgets for civic buildings, waterworks and inspection services this morning.

Substantial cuts are expected when new projects come under consideration later.

Additions totalling $1,150 were made to the estimates to permit employment of a temporary building inspector and to "beef up" the account for repairing City Hall ceilings.

City engineer J. C. Garnett said at least $600 would be needed for the continuing repair of ceiling plaster that keeps falling down in City Hall as a result of roof leaks.

NOBODY KNOWS

"As soon as we patch up one leak, another develops and there's no way to know where the plaster is going to fall," he said.

(Council has refused to re-roof the building in the past because of the expense and possible sale of the property.)

Ald. Geoffrey Edgelow, Mr. Garnett and city manager C. C. Wyatt were delegated to interview forestry officials to see if $2,000 could be saved from fire patrols in Thetis Lake Park.

Ald. Edgelow, repeating a stand he took last year, said the city "should make a scene" with forestry officials and demand they rescind an order requiring the park patrols. He said a nearby fire-spotter's tower was adequate "and we shouldn't have to spend this useless amount."

Action Asked On Harbor Cleaning Job

An immediate clean-up of the Inner Harbor was urged by the Chamber of Commerce harbor and transportation group at a meeting Monday noon at the Colonial Hotel.

Capt. George Veres, group chairman, told the meeting the Inner Harbor waters are so "filthy," and filled with oil and debris, that few pleasure craft would risk using the harbor.

BAD PUBLICITY

Tom Denny said it is urgent the harbor be cleaned up before Swiftsure Week when scores of yachts will be here. It would be very poor publicity for Victoria, he suggested, if these craft should be fouled by the oily water of the harbor.

Herbert Barnes originated a motion that city council should be approached to take immediate action on the problem. The motion was passed unanimously.

TRAFFIC FINES

In Central Saanich police court Thursday:

Sam Tim, 554 Fisgard, $35 for careless driving.

In Sidney RCMP court Saturday:

Edgar Von Kaldenberg, Sidney; George Richard Aylard, Sidney; John Claude Rousseau, Sidney; Dillys Lavina Jahn, Sidney; Peter Edward Lanning, Royal Oak, and Beryl Mary Schroter, Bremner, Alta., $15 and $25.50 costs each for speeding over 30.

John Egland, Sidney, $35 and $25.50 costs for careless driving; $20 and $2 costs for speeding over 30, and $10 and $2 for failing to stop at a stop sign.

PAYING COURTESY VISIT to Premier W. A. C. Bennett today, W. E. McLaughlin, of Montreal, president of the Royal Bank, took advantage of the seaplane float in the Inner Harbor to fly from Vancouver directly to the Legislative Buildings in a chartered amphibian aircraft. Mr. McLaughlin, who is making his annual visit to bank branches throughout the country, is shown above left being greeted at the float by C. L. Snyder, manager of the main branch of the Royal Bank in Victoria.

'Signals' Needed Says Bank Head

By GORDON BELL, Times Business Editor

Early this year W. E. McLaughlin, president of the Royal Bank, stated in his report to shareholders there was a great need for a "clear and unmistakable sign" of Bank of Canada policy.

Today, in Victoria, Mr. McLaughlin said in an interview this need is greater than ever but still hasn't been fulfilled.

"We still have a 'floating' bank rate and no signals," said the bank president.

YOUNGEST AT 45

At 45 Mr. McLaughlin is the youngest president in the Royal Bank's history and he is a man with considerable optimism about the future of Canada.

Speaking of the economic outlook, he noted signs of a pickup although he believed there would still be some "structural" unemployment for the country to contend with, the problem of finding jobs for unskilled and untrained workers.

However, he did not believe that government "pump-priming" is the answer to this problem. Rather the training of workers and, especially recognition of the need to encourage young people to get better educations, is the answer.

Mr. McLaughlin noted there is some surplus of plant and productive capacity in Canada but did not believe it too serious.

WAITING PERIOD

"We over-built during the boom years," he said, "and it is natural that we will have to wait a little before we can use the surplus."

One point that does bother Mr. McLaughlin about the future is the effect of government policy toward foreign investment.

He believes it is unwise to frighten foreign capital away and that the government's "baby budget" has had that effect.

The psychological effect of the policy has been bad, Mr. McLaughlin stated. He hoped the apprehension aroused would be somewhat resolved in the next federal budget.

Mr. McLaughlin returned to Vancouver after seeing the premier this morning, but comes back to Victoria Thursday. He will stay here over the Easter weekend before going on to San Francisco.

He is on his annual tour of Royal Bank branches in Canada and the U.S.

Two Round Trips By MV Coho To Start Sunday

Stepped-up spring schedule for MV Coho on the Victoria-Port Angeles route, effective Sunday, was announced today by the operators, Black Ball Transport Inc.

This will provide two round trips daily, instead of the winter schedule of a single round trip. Departures from Victoria will be at 9 a.m. and 1 p.m., from Port Angeles at 7 p.m. and 11 a.m.

The schedule will be further increased to four round trips daily June 10 through Sept. 10. Departures from Victoria will be at 6 and 10:15 a.m., 2:30 and 6:30 p.m. From Port Angeles 8 a.m., 12:15, 4:30 and 8:15 p.m.

Schedule operates on local time, as both B.C. and Washington go on daylight saving time April 30.

NEW STYLE LITTER CAN NOT ANSWER

Illegal garbage dumpers will go to any length "to play their trade," city public works committee learned today.

Committee was told that a new style of street litter can, with a fixed cover to discourage persons dumping their household garbage, was installed last week outside City Hall for a trial.

"Already we've found a parcel, full of garbage, all neatly wrapped and left on the sidewalk beside the can," city engineer J. C. Garnett said.

NEW BID TO BUY CITY HALL

Ald. Geoffrey Edgelow today indicated approaches are under way again for purchase of City Hall.

He did not identify the prospective purchaser.

Public works committee chopped out a proposed $10,000 recurring program for the building's overloaded electrical services and a proposed $1,000 fire alarm system, after Ald. Edgelow said there were "possibilities" the building might be sold.

Meanwhile, Mayor Percy Scurrell said he had "no comment" about a visit from George Wilkinson, Vancouver, vice-president of Marwell Construction. The company last year offered to use the City Hall site for a combined new business and civic building.

NOT MARWELL

However, Mayor Scurrell said he would discount rumors that Marwell may make another bid for the property.

Ald. Edgelow told the estimates committee to keep maintenance costs to a minimum because "there are possibilities of someone making an offer on this property and arrangements being made for another (civic) building."

"This building might be purchased. There is interest being shown in that now."

City Manager C. C. Wyatt nodded agreement with Ald. Edgelow's remarks.

Sentence On Thursday

Sentence in Assize Court for William John Stewart, Kemp Lake Road, convicted Monday of criminally negligent driving, is expected Thursday.

He was remanded in custody.

Stewart was charged following an accident in the early hours of last Oct. 21 in which Jack Leroy Cameron and his brother Tom Cameron, both from Colwood, were instantly killed.

The brothers were pinned between a wrecking truck and another vehicle when the car Stewart was driving hit the wrecker. The tragedy took place in the Dewdney Flats area of the Sooke highway.

The jury went out for lunch at 1 p.m. and returned their verdict at 3:20 p.m.

'Room at the Y' Thing of Past Under Amalgamated Operation

Rooms for women will continue to be operated by the Y in Victoria will be no more when the amalgamated YMCA-YWCA building is constructed on Broughton Street.

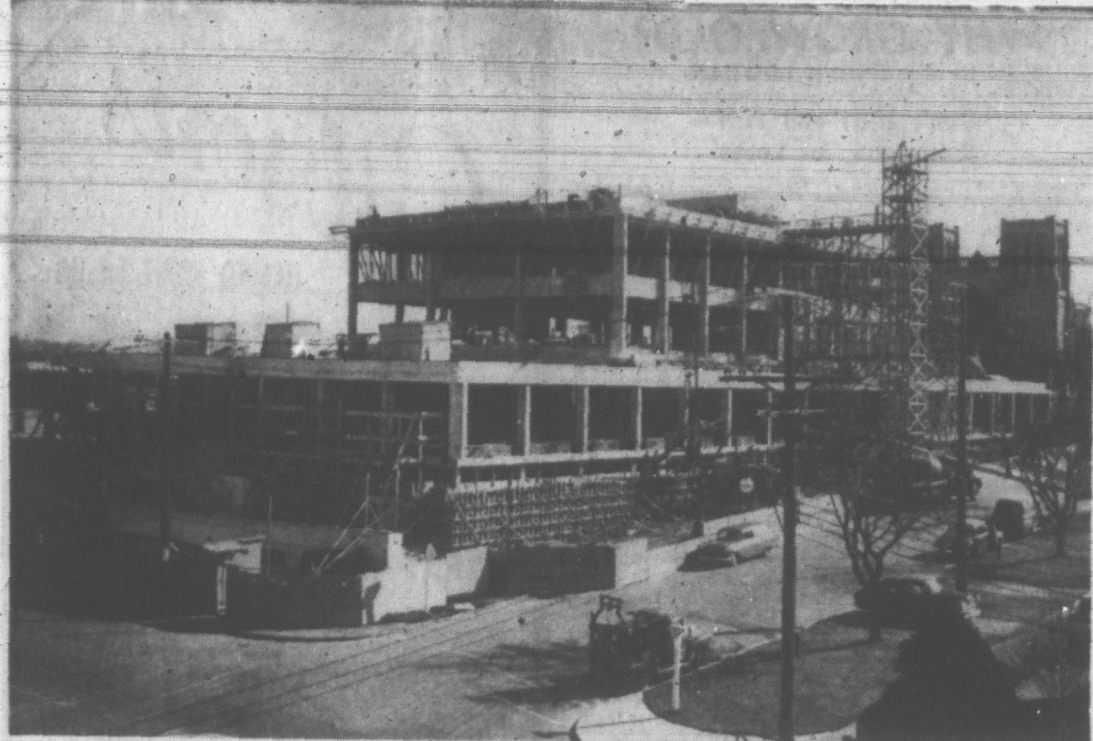

For the first time in the history of the "Y" in Victoria there will be no men's residences that have provided low-cost shelter for thousands of transients and low-income groups.

This will be explained in plans for the new building to be outlined at the first joint YM-YWCA annual meeting Wednesday at 8 p.m. in the YMCA gymnasium.

"It is one of the traditional services of the YW," explained Mrs. Phyllis Graveley, executive director.

Also planned for the structure are two gyms to take care of the increase in men's and women's classes, and two swimming pools, one for practice and the other a 75 by 25-foot competition pool with diving facilities.

Although the YM and YW officially amalgamated here in January under a joint constitution and board, the meeting will be the first joint an-

Majestic Facade for Majesty of Law

Beginning to give some hint of graceful, step-back design of completed buildings, Victoria's new courthouse construction continues well ahead of schedule, as contractors, Luney Brothers and Hamilton, foresee no difficulty in meeting June, 1962, completion date.

Main entrance faces Burdett, at right; and raised stairways to give access from Blanshard Street can be seen behind temporary fence at left. Building will have 140,000 square feet of floor space, including 37,000 feet in a basement parking area.

MONTE ROBERTS

Our Very Own Addenda Department, birds, bees, and date divisions.

BIRDS: Recent remarks in this space anent the bird-feeding station hanging outside the breakfast nook window, and the frustrating effect of same upon Little Miss Muffet, the female-type cat who lives at our house, need re-examination.

Either my initial observations of the cat's reactions were superficial and incorrect, or the cat has adjusted herself to the situation.

I am now convinced she LIKES having the birds come to dinner.

She watches them with fascination, and, despite twitching tail, often emits the continual purring sound generally taken to indicate happiness.

I'm beginning to think this cat is FOR the birds.

BEES: Recent remarks in this space anent the fact bees are sold by the pound were discussed at a bee-keeping course the other night.

(Oh, yes, there is no such thing as a bee-keeping course.)

The remarks expressing concern for the man who holds the bees on the scale while they are being weighed were pooh-poohed by the instructor.

He said it was a simple matter to weigh a pound of bees.

Just take 4,000 bees and pour them through a funnel into a jar and—voila—you have a pound of bees.

Now I'm worried about the man who has to count the 4,000 bees.

(I was going to tell you 1,200 humming birds also weigh a pound, but decided against it.)

DATES: Recent remarks in this space anent purchasing The Saturday Evening Post each Tuesday, and the confusion arising from same, sent Curtis Publishing Company into a flurry of action.

The local rep. sent a clipping of this space to head office in Philadelphia.

Head office held an emergency meeting of the board of directors, following which the chairman of the board caused this wire to be sent to the local rep.:

FOR PETE'S SAKE SAVE THIS GUY'S SANITY SEE HE GETS SATEVEPOST ON SATURDAY.

So that's how I got a copy of The Saturday EVENING Post last Saturday.

Saturday MORNING, that is.

And the issue dated April 7, NEXT SATURDAY.

This is the way to save my sanity?

Two Charged After Chase In Oak Bay

A police chase through quiet Oak Bay streets at up to 60 miles an hour early today led to three charges against two men in Oak Bay police court.

George A. R. Reader, 1746 Island Highway, pleaded guilty to driving while under suspension and careless driving and was fined $150 and $75 respectively.

Magistrate William Ostler cancelled Reader's driving privileges anywhere in Canada for two years.

Kenneth Roy Henry Tidbury, 26, of 1715 Emerson, owner of the car driven by Reader and passenger at the time, pleaded guilty to theft under $50 value after a $150 flashlight was found in his possession.

He had stolen it a few minutes earlier from a car parked in a garage at the rear of 2092 Haultain, home of the owner Wilbur Wilson.

Police responding to a prowler complaint at 2:10 a.m. followed the car from Haultain, through a stop sign, on Kinross at Cadboro Bay and onto Estevan, a distance of six blocks.

In fining Tidbury $35—it was a first offence—Magistrate Ostler observed the situation was "far more serious than the circumstances would indicate."

NAVAL SHIP MOVEMENTS

St. Therese and Jonquiere, return 1:30 p.m. Thursday.

Saguenay, St. Laurent, Ottawa, return 10:00 a.m. April 4.

DeMOLAY

Mayor Lauds Leadership Training

The world has never needed leaders so much as now, Mayor Percy Scurrell told the opening session of the International Supreme Council meeting of the Order of DeMolay in Victoria today.

"You in DeMolay are developing leaders and how vital that is," he said.

Mayor Scurrell was welcoming to Victoria the 300 delegates, observers and guests of the council meeting, some of whom have travelled from as far away as Australia, Hawaii and Mexico.

This is the first time in the 42-year history of DeMolay that a meeting of the International Supreme Council—the governing body—has been held outside the borders of the United States.

SWEEP AWARD

Dr. Gordon F. Grant, Victoria, executive officer in charge of the 26 chapters in B.C., is serving as host to the meeting.

Under his leadership, the movement has grown rapidly in British Columbia. So much so that during the four-day meeting he will receive, on behalf of the province, the Supreme Council's Sweepstake Award. This is awarded to the outstanding jurisdiction among the 73 in the movement.

At the same time Victoria chapter will receive the "Chapter of the Year" plaque as the most outstanding of the 2,150 chapters in 12 countries.

WORLD-WIDE

The Order of DeMolay, a Junior Masonic lodge, was founded in Kansas City, Missouri, in 1919 and now operates on a world-wide basis.

DeMolay came to British Columbia in 1937 when the Beaver chapter was instituted in Vancouver. Victoria chapter has been operating since 1954.

Wrecking his car against pole was not enough to keep a Saanich driver from keeping a fishing date recently.

Jack Barrington Boam, 2826 Colquitz, was found guilty of careless driving when he appeared in Central Saanich police court Thursday and was fined $25.

He told police he was heading for Brentwood and when turning off West Saanich Road onto Verdier his brakes locked and the car went off the road. The car was abandoned where it stopped and Boam carried on.

SHOPPING GUIDE

Floor Waxing Banished With This Handy Product

By PENNY SAVER

A New Westminster firm is reporting surprising sales on a product that's destined to take hard work out of floor waxing. Made with bakelite, it's a liquid plastic that, once on a floor, will protect and keep it shining for about a year.

It's perfectly safe on hardwood or softwood floors and ideal for linoleum and other surfaces. Indeed, it's perfect for any surface with the exception of rubber tile.

Simple to apply, it can be rubbed on with a cloth, applied with brush or roller or sprayed over floor's surface. In four hours it will be firmly set. Forty ounce can sells at $3.45 and 20-ounce can is priced at $1.95.

There's nothing like spring sunshine for showing up the rust on car bumpers! If you are faced with the problem get some magical rust remover that sells at $1.39 for a can containing 4 1/2 ounces.

All you have to do is apply it with a clean cloth, rub thoroughly until rust is removed and wipe clean. You'll be delighted at the shiny bright finish!

Once chrome work is in brand-new shape again, keep it that way by using rust preventer, priced at $1.95 for a 10-ounce can. Complete with pressure nozzle, it should be sprayed on and allowed to set for one hour before wiping dry. It will protect all metal surfaces and prevent rust due to road salt and atmospheric corrosion even after numerous washings. For maximum lustre, leave surface for about one week before waxing.

DEAR ABBY

Life Is What YOU Make It!

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am married to the most selfish man in the world. When he comes off his job I don't dare ask him to help me around the house because he tells me he worked 8 hours today. I work 14 hours a day, caring for four kids (under 12) and an 8-room house. If he feels like going to a tavern, he just walks out. Don't tell me to go with him because I can't leave four kids alone. I am 33 and feel like 90. My husband says I need a doctor. I think a lawyer is what I need. Who said marriage was a 50-50 proposition?

FEELS LIKE 90
DEAR FEELS: Marriage is not—and never was—a 50-50 proposition. If a wife knows how to handle her husband it can be 90-10, in her favor. Try to remember what you saw in him before you married him. Leave the brood with a relative, or a sister, occasionally, go out with your husband and show him a good time. If you feel "like 90," maybe you do need a doctor. Get out of that domestic rut before it becomes a grave.

DEAR ABBY: Every year around Eastertime, when I see those cute little dyed baby chicks displayed for sale in pet shop windows, I feel sick—for I have an idea of what fate awaits those helpless little creatures. They will be taken home for some innocent little child to maul, squeeze and abuse. A baby chick is a living thing. Let parents take home plastic or stuffed toys for children who are too young to care for living pets. Please, Abby, print this in the name of decency.

VOICE OF THE VOICELESS
DEAR ABBY: Four years ago we married off our oldest daughter. We spent $3,600 on a church wedding. Everyone said it was out of this world. Things have been very

TODAY'S RECIPE

CURRIED ASPARAGUS TURNS

Two tablespoons butter, -2 tablespoons flour, 1/2 teaspoon celery salt, 1/2 teaspoon dry mustard, 1 cup milk, 1/2 cup shredded old Canadian cheddar cheese, 1 cup prepared biscuit or baking mix, 1 teaspoon curry powder, 1/2 cup shredded old Canadian cheddar cheese, 1/2 cup milk, 1 pound fresh or 1 (10-ounce) package frozen asparagus, cooked and drained.

For the Sauce: Melt butter in saucepan; blend in flour, celery salt and mustard. Very gradually stir in milk. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly, until smoothly thickened. Add cheese and stir until melted. Keep sauce warm while preparing turnovers.

For the Turnovers: Preheat oven to 425 degrees F. (hot). Measure biscuit mix into a bowl; add and mix in curry powder and cheese. Add milk and mix lightly with a fork. Turn out dough onto lightly floured board or canvas and knead 10 seconds. Roll out to an 8-inch square; cut into four (4-inch) squares. Place 5 or 6 stalks of asparagus across the centre of each square; fold alternate corners over asparagus; moisten edges and seal. Place turnovers on a cookie sheet. Bake in preheated oven 8 to 10 minutes. (Makes four servings.)

DO 'SLIMMING DIETS' AGE THE COMPLEXION?

Sometimes it happens! A low-fat diet, combined with a rushed modern life—outdoors in all weathers, indoors in overheated rooms—can lead to a condition of skin dryout. And from this may develop those worrying problems of harsh, flaky patches, little lines, crow's feet.

What to do? Use POND'S DRY SKIN CREAM. This famous cream contains Allantoin—a substance that floats off lifeless surface skin cells, speeds deep penetration of Pond's moisturized lanolin. Dried-out, thirsty tissues in the skin's sub-surface are re-vitalized, and, almost overnight, your complexion takes on a softer, smoother, younger look. Use POND'S DRY SKIN CREAM regularly. Buy it in jar or tube, wherever cosmetics are sold.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Don't Huff and Puff— Relax and 'Sit Loose'

The habit of doing one thing at a time and thinking only of that one thing is most relaxing.

Many folks feel pushed all day long by pressure from the multitude of things which they must eventually do. We do not get one bit more done by huffing and puffing and contemplating the work ahead.

When we work in a relaxed manner with wholehearted attention to the task at hand, we are much more efficient. We also skip more wear and tear and have more pep at the end of the day.

One of the best prescriptions I have ever heard of for promoting health and happiness and prolonging the youthful portion of life, came from a very wise woman from the south. A Negro mammy was asked how she retained her youth so well and she answered, "When I works I works hard, when I sits I sits loose, and when I start to worry I falls asleep."

What a wonderfully humorous way to explain an extremely wise philosophy. One thing at a time does it. When we work, we should work hard. When we relax, we should really relax and forget work. When we worry, we should get cutoffs. It seems to me that the ability to change pace, to enjoy distinct and separate experiences, is a great gift and a talent which most successful persons have inherited or developed.

Yet many people cannot forget their work. They take it home with them. It hovers about them at the dinner table and the bridge table. It dims the pleasure of companionship and conversation because they are not really aware of what is going on—but are mulling over their work or responsibilities.

The busiest and most successful folks have learned to work hard, sit loose and go to sleep instead of worrying. If you have a worry habit and would like to have my leaflet which gives you psychological suggestions for overcoming it, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 64. Victorians travelling abroad who have visited British Columbia House recently and signed the visitors' book include Mr. David R. Hourigan, Mr. K. W. Moulson, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Carson, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Edward Barratt, Mrs. E. D. Gent and Mr. J. D. D. Campbell.

Coming Home

Rev. and Mrs. F. R. Anderson and their three young children left Serenite, Northern Rhodesia, on Sunday for England. They will sail from Greenock, Scotland, in the Empress of England, for Canada on April 7 and before coming to Victoria will attend board of overseas missionaries meetings in Toronto. Rev. Anderson has been in Serenite for nearly five years.

Nurses Meeting In Australia

Mrs. Phyllis Roberts, Victoria, will be among 67 Canadian nurses attending 12th quadrennial congress of the International Council of Nurses in Melbourne, Australia, from April 17 to 22. Four others from British Columbia will be Miss Edna Rossiter, president of the Registered Nurses' Association, Miss Alice Wright and Miss Lois Stewart, all of Vancouver and Miss Mary Rowles, Kamloops.

Thirty-eight of the Canadians will leave Vancouver airport next Saturday on a tour, stopping in Honolulu, Fiji and New Zealand, en route to Melbourne. More than 2,000 nurses from 40 countries are expected at the congress. Subjects to be discussed include improvement education and the implications for nursing, of changing trends in medicine and public health.

Miss Lyle Creelman, chief of the nursing section, World Health Organization at Geneva, is on a brief vacation with family and friends in Vancouver, before going on to Melbourne.

NEVER STOPPED

NEW YORK (UPI) — Mrs. Rosina Lhevinne sees nothing remarkable about having a concert career at the "young" age of 81.

"I never really stopped," said the grand dame of the grand piano. "I just dropped out as a solo performer because I did not believe in pursuing the same career as that of my husband. But I've done chamber music concerts . . . kept on teaching."

Madame Lhevinne, who celebrates her 81st birthday tomorrow, is the widow of Josef Lhevinne, the Russian-born pianist.

Spring Dance

Sons of Scotland annual spring dance will be held in the Flamingo Room at the Crystal Garden Saturday evening. Grand march will be at 8.30 sharp. A program of modern and Scottish dancing has been arranged and at intermission there will be a display of Highland dancing by Margaret Brown and Angus McKenzie. Further information may be obtained by telephoning EV 6-2359. Tickets may be bought at the door.

Miss Carol Johnson, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Ray Johnson, 3045 Uplands Road, will be featured in the "Rain" number in Ice Capers of 1961 to be presented in the Memorial Arena this weekend. Miss Johnson is working on her gold test in skating and is a student at Victoria College. Seven hundred members of the Victoria Figure Skating Club will take part in the show which will be given afternoon and evening on Saturday.

Always read the tags! This is a resolution that all municipalities and authorities in the Metropolitan Health Unit of South Vancouver Island and Cedar of the Hudson's Bay Company, guest speaker at meeting held in the Public Library's Music Room, Monday afternoon.

Speaking on "New Fabrics and Their Care" he went on: "Women shoppers could save themselves a great deal of grief if they followed instructions available regarding widths of material, whether it can be washed or cleaned and washing instructions.

Pointing out that often manufacturer's fold in material is not centred, Mr. Cedar cautioned home sewers to examine dress lengths carefully. Pressure was being brought to bear on textile industry for standardization of widths of materials, recommending that widths be either 36 inches, 45 or 54 inches, he said.

Speaker was introduced by Mrs. A. B. Young and thanked by Miss Ethel Bruce.

Recent participant in panel discussion at meeting of the Canadian Electrical Association, Mrs. J. L. Andrews moved a resolution that manufacturers of stoves be requested to place serial numbers on ranges in a convenient uniform place.

It was also decided to set up a committee to investigate whether the provincial department of labor requires qualifying abilities for appliance repair men.

On recommendation of Mrs. Elizabeth Mills, the meeting, chaired by Mrs. Young, passed mediate action to bring about meat inspection act of 1954 the passing of such a bylaw and regulations pursuant to in accordance with province's act of 1955.

Everyday Folks Stay Unfenced

WASHINGTON (CP)—A west coast U.S. congressman has won his two-month battle on behalf of "the plain, everyday folks" of the United States and Canada.

There won't be any fence to clutter up the unique Peace Arch Park connecting British Columbia and Washington State at the western end of the 3,000-mile international border.

Says Washington Republican Jack Westland: "The octopus of bureaucracy has been defeated."

Under pressure of an unrelenting attack by the 56-year-old politician, naval veteran and onetime U.S. amateur golf champion, the U.S. Bureau of Public Roads issued new instructions stopping the erection of a high fence on both sides of the American right-of-way inside the park right up to the 67-foot-high Peace Arch.

While Westland charged basic freedoms of American and Canadian park-lovers were being restricted, the bureau at first insisted all American public highways, built with federal funds, had to have proper fencing—inside a park or outside.

NO ONE EVER HURT

Millions of Canadians and Americans made pilgrimages to the Peace Arch in the last 40 years and no one has ever been injured, argued Westland.

What's more, while the United States proposed extending the fence from the American custom house at the park entrance to the arch—a distance of several hundred yards—British Columbia would leave the road on its side open.

If an American wanted to walk around the arch, he would have to walk up to the Canadian side—and around—to get back on the other side of American territory.

"The people of my district and the millions of people who have visited this historic site say 'Don't fence me in,'" claimed Westland. The bureau was unmoved.

ACTION AT LAST

Westland carried his campaign from Congress to Commerce Secretary Luther Hodges. Things began moving.

The new roads commissioner, Rex Whitton, who did not seem to know what the fuss was all about, finally got into the act and told his associates to send new instructions to the Northwest regional office.

There won't be any fence inside the park, the office was told, but officials are to keep a sharp lookout. If any serious accidents occur, then new fencing instructions might be issued.

The Peace Arch, neighboring on Douglas, B.C., and Blaine, Wash., was built in 1921 to commemorate more than a century of peace between the two countries. On the inside walls of the portal are two iron gates and above them the inscription: "May these gates never be closed."

IT HAPPENED LAST NIGHT

By EARL WILSON

ROME — Donald O'Connor unsolemnly swears that he asked a policeman on the Via Veneto for directions to a shop and that the cop said:

"You go straight ahead till you come to the fourth auto accident, then it's the second auto accident to the left."

Donald's Beverly Hills-bound after finishing a film, "The Wonderful World of Aladdin," and believes driving on the Hollywood Freeway will be relaxing after Rome.

"I used to drive racing cars so it didn't bother me," he says. "Some American tourists staying at the Hotel Excelsior don't set alarm clocks or leave wake-up calls. They know the morning rush hour auto crashes will yank them from the deepest sleep."

"It's one thing that makes Rome such an exciting city," O'Connor told me.

"If one car just taps another both drivers leap out, start haggling, then the polizia arrive, crowds gather, everybody wants to be a witness—and they will not move their cars."

Out in the Tunisian desert on location, O'Connor learned things.

"We'd be doing a scene," he said, "and suddenly all the stagehands would be missing. 'Where'd everybody go?' we'd say. The food truck had arrived with the lunch hour sandwiches—and it was first come, first served."

O'Connor and B. W. Gloria are a little doubtful of their own cleverness. They had a houseboy who told them he had an ulcer—and Donald was going to fly his doctor here to treat him.

Then the boy told them his sister had died. They tearfully mourned the sister and gave the boy several days off. He came back with his nose bandaged. Anyway, the houseboy is now in jail, charged with twice robbing them (about $3,000 and jewelry) and going off to Florence to get a nose job.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL IN NEW YORK: Richard Burton was out of "Camelot" with virus, first show he's missed in his career. . . . Is dancer Julia Dervais-of-Darvas and Julian secretly wed to a Parisian and expecting? . . . The "Great Imposter" party brought out a Charlie Chaplin impersonator so authentic (said Jimmy Komack) that the government will sue him for Chaplin's back taxes. . . . Red Buttons, back from Africa and the "Hawaii" set, dined at Lindy's and signed, "Look real, human food again!"

Comic Phil Foster got $2,500 plus round trip air fare for a one-nighter in Sydney, Australia.

EARL'S PEARLS: A bore is a guy who listens only when he's talking.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Joe E. Lewis says he's finally ready to go on the wagon—as soon as he finds one with a bar.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: A local woman decided her young son will probably grow up to be a big business executive, because he takes so long to eat his lunch.

Henny Youngman visited the circus and reports: "I figured out why those guys ride bicycles on the high wire—there's no traffic up there." . . . That's Earl brother.

HE GIVES AWAY GRAND PRIZES

Is there something you want to know? Do you want to win a set of valuable books or other instructive prizes? Then ask Andy.

Andy will answer questions submitted by child readers and those who submit the questions he selects to answer will receive worthwhile prizes.

The youngster who asks the first question answered each day receives a 20-volume set of the World Book Encyclopedia, and of the second question a Hammond Atlas or Globe.

Address your questions to "Ask Andy," Victoria Daily Times.

Andy sends a complete, 20-volume set of the World Book Encyclopedia to Janet West, age 9, of St. Catharines, Ont., for her question:

Why were the prehistoric horses so small?

The story of life always begins with small creatures. The first creatures were tiny one-celled animals, too small for our eyes to see. After countless generations some of these single-celled organisms joined together to live in colonies. The living creatures were getting bigger and through ages of time they got bigger and still bigger.

Five hundred million years ago, the biggest animals were crabs and trilobites. They teemed in the ancient seas, for there were no living things on the dry land. Two hundred million years later, crusty little scorpions were exploring life on land and there were sizable fishes in the seas. In the long story of life on earth, things moved very, very slowly. Two hundred million years ago, squat salamanders left the sea for life on land and in 50 million years their children were giants several feet long.

Little reptiles also had crept out of the seas and now it was their turn to grow big. In time, their children became the giant dinosaurs that ruled the world for more than 100 million years. These monsters were in their heyday about 60 million years ago. Then a new kind of animal arrived on the scene. It was a mammal, a warm-blooded, fur-coated animal who gave birth to live babies and for the first time fed them on mother's milk.

Dangerous to Be Healthy!

VANCOUVER (CP) — A medical specialist said here Monday good health may increase susceptibility to certain virus diseases.

Prof. Thomas Anderson, professor of infectious diseases at Glasgow University, said it seems possible that as the level of human nutrition improves cells become better supporters of viruses.

Delivering the Canadian

Tuberculosis Association lectureship to the annual scientific session of the College of General Practice, an association of family doctors, he indicated also that climatic changes may also enhance virus susceptibility.

SOCIAL MEASURES

When sudden climatic changes occur the respiratory system may be strained and become more susceptible to infection.

Certain of the newly-isolated viruses appear to grow best at low temperature.

On the prevention of infectious disease, he advocated social measures which can permanently be maintained to eradicate a disease.

Isolation of the population from cholera and typhoid infection, for example, by the control of sewage and water had virtually eliminated these diseases.

Prof. Anderson said immunization in the control of smallpox and diphtheria had been similarly successful, but artificial immunization should only be adopted when other control methods fail.

INFLUENZA WORST

"... It seems that vaccination against some of the respiratory infections due to virus is unlikely to prove a rewarding exercise."

He said influenza now is the most severe of the respiratory infections and vaccination can apparently, under certain conditions, reduce the chance of infection. But he considered it a second-best course.

New Motel Second Only To Empress

The Imperial Motor Hotel, now under construction on Douglas at Discovery, is being expanded to make it the largest in Victoria and second in room accommodation only to the Empress Hotel.

Contractor George Wheaton said that original plans had been changed and the Imperial, instead of being finished as a three-storey, 48-room building, would have a fourth floor and a total of 73 rooms. Cost of the project is now estimated at $750,000.

Meanwhile, Rex Covey, former Nanaimo businessman who will manage the venture, is on an extensive tour of the U.S. looking over the best in motels and hotels and gathering ideas which might be incorporated into the Victoria project.

Already planned are a heated swimming pool and garden courts for some of the units. No completion date has been set for the Imperial and it will not likely be ready for the main tourist season this year.

'Treat Cancer In Broad Way'

VANCOUVER (CP) — The director of the Saskatchewan Cancer and Medical Research Institute today urged a broad view that seeks various treatments for various types of cancer—in the same way that infectious diseases are combated by many agents.

Dr. Robert W. Begg was delivering the Canadian Cancer Society lecture at the annual scientific assembly of the Canadian College of General Practice.

Addressing family doctors who are spending four days in annual postgraduate educational sessions, he said: "Whereas research has not revealed a single over-riding cause of cancer, we have at hand an embarrassing number of agents which could be a cause of cancer."

HIGHLY UNLIKELY

While agreeing that radiation can be a cause for cancer and should not be minimized, Dr. Begg said it was highly unlikely that the majority of cancers seen in the clinic are the result of over-exposure to radiation.

"We have today hundreds of pure chemical compounds which can cause cancer when painted on or injected into animals," he said. "We know that workers in tar industries and certain other groups may develop occupational cancers if proper precautions are not taken. But it is hard to see how clinical cancer in general can be the result of exposure to such agents."

Dr. Begg said there is a great tendency to speak of the cause and the cure of cancer, as though dealing with a single disease.

City Piper Wins

Gordon Ross of Victoria won the MacIvor Memorial Trophy at the British Columbia Pipers' Association annual competition in Vancouver over the weekend.

Other trophy winners: James Yardi, Powell River; Rosemarie MacInnes and W. A. MacKenzie of Powell River; Powell River Pipe Band, David Wilson of Vancouver, Seb Nilles of Vancouver, Bobby MacDonald of Vancouver, Teresa MacInnes of Vancouver.

LOCAL BRIEFS

Miss Mary Strachan, RN, 2424 Beach Drive, was admitted to Royal Jubilee Hospital Sunday evening after breaking a leg while skiing on Mt. Brenton.

There will be no carrier or rural mail delivery service Good Friday.

Post office facilities will be closed excepting stamp window service between 10 a.m. and noon.

On Easter Monday letter carriers will make one delivery and post office wickets will be open from 8 a.m. to noon.

Guest speaker at the annual re-union of the 67th Battalion, Western Scots Regiment, in the Dominion Hotel Saturday, was Brig. Jack Adams, area administrator for the Department of Veterans Affairs.

The re-union was attended by 65 men who were among a force of 1200 who left Victoria for overseas duty in 1915.

Capt. D. F. B. Bullen, one of the six original officers present, presided. Two members travelled up from California, one came from the Yukon and several others came from up Island and mainland points.

First official activity at the proposed new Colwood fair grounds will be held Wednesday at 2.30 p.m. when Agriculture Minister Frank Richter will present a B.C. Agriculture Association cup to Grace Bishop, Sandwood Farm, Saanich.

The cup is for outstanding accomplishments by the Saanich 4 H Holstein Calf Club and was presented to the winner of club awards.

About 69 per cent of Canada's total agricultural produce is sold on the Canadian market, the rest being exported.

BRIEFS

Esquimalt's annual giant size spring clean will take place April 10-14 inclusive.

Residents wishing to dispose of any cumbersome unwanted articles have only to place them on the boulevards to get them collected after they have notified the council at EV 3-4103.

A Nova Scotia-born man is sought in this area in connection with a property settlement in St. Petersburg, Florida, city police have been informed.

Anyone knowing whereabouts of Herbert Urquhart is asked to contact Victoria detective bureau, EV 2-2100.

General meeting of the Old Age Pensioners, Branch No. 5, will be held in the Naval Veterans' Hall, 1.30 p.m. April 5.

Free public lecture, illustrated by a colored sound film, will be held in the C and C Hall, 906 Government Street, at 8 p.m. Wednesday, when hearing-aid consultant Humphrey Golby will speak on "Ears and Hearing." Meeting is sponsored by the National Health Federation.

Two navigation aids in the Pender Island canal have been changed by the Department of Transport.

The Eastern and Western can buoys have been replaced by a red steel can spar buoy and a black steel can spar buoy, respectively.

The spars are placed 13 feet apart.

President, R. J. E. Taylor; vice-presidents, M. A. W. Fraser, Ald. A. W. Toome; treasurer, P. S. Taylor. Directors, H. B. Bolus, Mrs. H. E. Botterell, E. E. Chamberlain, F. T. Donegan, R. C. Ellis, Dr. H. J. Lewis, Rev. A. J. MacDonald, Dr. D. C. Orchard, C. W. Potter and F. A. Stegless.

Mrs. Julia Fone, 2366 Oakland Avenue, on Monday became the first woman to win the district Golden Gavel contest for public speaking.

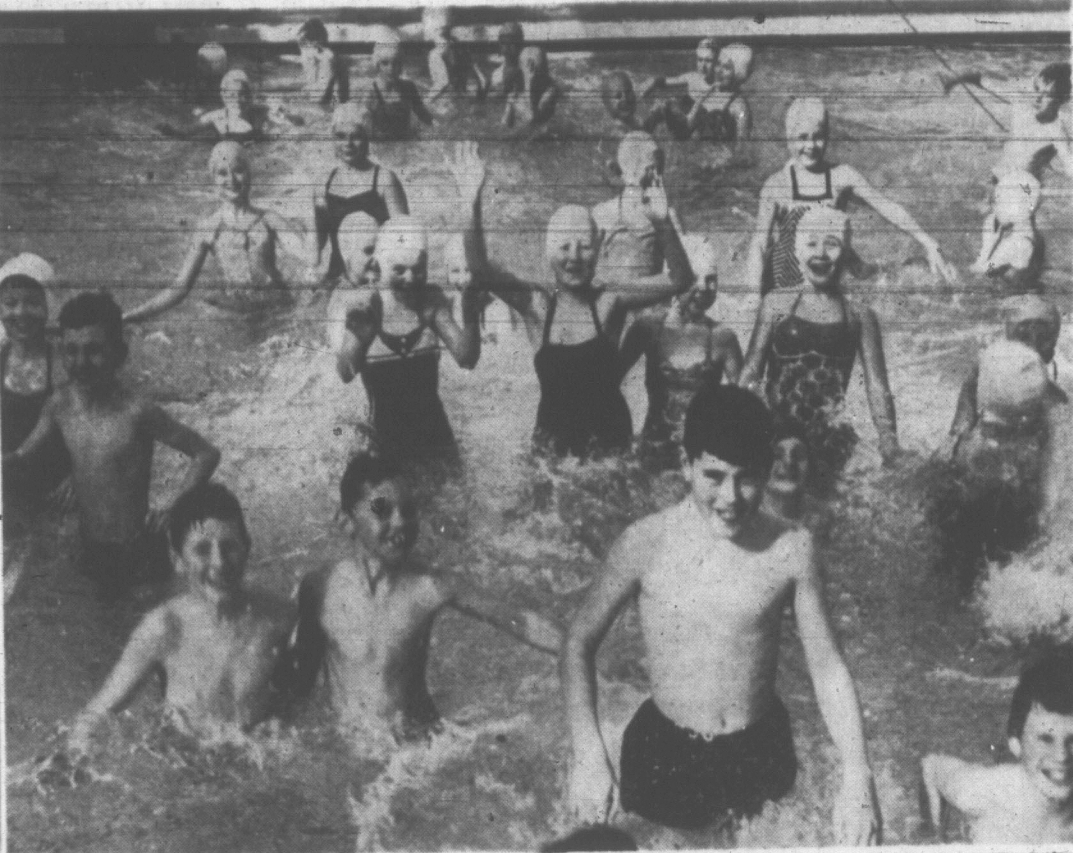

A member of the Sidney Madonna Toastmistress Club, Mrs. Fone spoke on "Why Grow Old?" She topped seven other finalists.

Runner-up was Peter Hunter, of the Navy Preparatory School.

A record number of 47 speakers entered the contest this year.

Gerald James Moss, 20, of 790 Cave, was fined $20 when he pleaded guilty in city police court today to being a minor in possession of five bottles of beer.

Herbert Baird, 518 Sumas, was fined $200 and $6.50 costs when he pleaded guilty in Colwood RCMP court today to impaired driving Monday night. Police charged him after his car was seen being driven erratically on Island Highway.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS SWIM PROGRAM for Grade 5 children swung into action at the Crystal Garden pool last week with a class from View Royal School. This was first of 14 groups taking part in latest course. Each group contains 60 to 70 children and each child receives eight lessons paid for by the school board. About 1,900 Grade 5 children will have passed through the course by the end of the school year—half of them completed the course last fall. Coaching is given by Red Cross instructors and teachers. It is estimated 90 per cent of the youngsters can manoeuvre in water after the lessons.

City Site Best For Sea Museum

The "most practicable" solution to the financial problems of the British Columbia Maritime Museum would be a move into the centre of Victoria, Commodore Harold Groos, the chairman of the museum's board of directors, said today.

He was asked to comment on opposition to moving from the present location on Signal Hill, near the entrance to HMC Dockyard.

"The museum can now go no further without an annual income of approximately $10,000. Without this income, it will quickly lose ground."

MONEY NEEDED
"The board has authorized me to explore various means of improving the financial outlook. The necessary money can only be secured by increasing the number of paying visitors."

"There are several alternatives, but the most practicable one is to move the museum into the centre of Victoria, where the greatest number of tourists is congregated."

"Esquimalt's very generous offer of a site in Rock Heights Park is much appreciated by the board, but the prospects of raising funds to build a maritime museum as well as sufficient income to pay staff and maintain the premises are completely out of the question in the foreseeable future."

The present reserve naval establishment building on Wharf Street has been suggested as a suitable downtown location, but the move was vigorously opposed over the

Church Court Ousts Vicar On Sex Count

LONDON (AP)—A Church of England vicar was convicted today of sexual misbehavior with two women and two young girls of his parish. A church court ousted him from his position and prohibited him from carrying out any ecclesiastical functions.

Meanwhile, he will retain holy orders until church authorities decide whether to unfrock him.

The vicar, 62-year-old Rev. William Bryn Thomas, was accused of committing adultery with Mrs. Elsie Brandy, 42, one of his Sunday school teachers.

He also was accused of making improper advances to his curate's wife, Mrs. Elizabeth Neely, 37, and two girls, aged 13 and 14.

The vicar denied the charges and accused members of his parish of working with the curate to unseat him.

TRAFFIC FINES

In city police court today: Eric Spencer Gray, 3340 Doncaster, $45; James B. Laird, 620 George West, $50 and licence suspension, for careless driving.

Nancy K. Tweter, 714 Kings, $20 for speeding over 30. Thomas Schultz, 745 Goldstream, $20 for having no vehicle licence and $10 for failing to have registration.

Special Session in Fall On Tax Scheme, Columbia

By FRANK RUTTER

A special session of the British Columbia legislature will be called this fall to consider the Columbia River power project and a new federal-provincial tax rental agreement, Premier Bennett said Monday.

"I want to make it very clear there will be no increase in taxation," he promised.

He said it was not certain that legislation would be required for the Columbia but the financial arrangements now under discussion between British Columbia and Ottawa likely would require some sort of legislative approval.

An increase in borrowing power for the B.C. Power Commission is one likely move.

The new tax rental agreement will take effect in 1962, and because the federal government has insisted the provinces levy what taxes they need themselves, new British Columbia legislation will definitely be required.

"We have a team of finance department officials in Ottawa at present, discussing the details with federal people and representatives from the other provinces," said the premier.

It is unlikely the session in the fall will last more than a few days, he added. It will be either in September or October.

OTHER PLANS

However, Opposition MLAs may have other ideas if the subject of the Columbia comes up.

The CCF, in particular, has been consistently attacking the terms of the treaty which Canada and the U.S. must ratify.

This could lead to a major debate.

Mr. Bennett said he expects soon to either meet again with federal Finance Minister Donald Fleming, or to exchange letters.

TORONTO AUTHORITY ON VISIT

High Ratio of Diabetics Here

Victoria has a comparatively high ratio of diabetics, more than 2 per cent of the population, Dr. William R. Feasby, Toronto, medical director of the Canadian Diabetic Association, said here Monday.

Average across Canada was 1.9 per cent diabetic. Reason for the "margin" in Victoria was due to the older segments of the population.

There were many diabetics in Victoria who did not belong to the association, Dr. Feasby pointed out, and plans are being studied to start an "older members" club to meet at mid-day, similar to Toronto.

CHILDREN SOUGHT

The association is making concerted efforts to find diabetic children not now under treatment.

these on Vancouver Island," Dr. Feasby said.

On a one-day visit here he addressed nurses at both the Royal Jubilee and St. Joseph's Hospitals, and Monday night spoke to association members in the nurses' auditorium at St. Joseph's.

NEWS OF THE ISLAND

DUNCAN — Council here Monday approved a proposal to contribute to an advertising pool being established by Island municipalities to promote tourism.

Mayor Jack Dobson said that the 22 municipalities had tentatively agreed to share costs. Duncan's share would be about $300 towards a $13,000 objective.

DUNCAN — The Kinsmen Club's Health Centre project here will receive a $4,200 donation from the B.C. division, Canadian Cancer Society.

The club has now raised about $51,000 of the overall $60,000 cost to replace the old crowded building on Canada Avenue.

DUNCAN — Annual banquet of the Duncan-Cowichan Chamber of Commerce will be held April 20 at Maple Bay Inn.

DUNCAN — Taxi companies here will lose their free parking stands if they continue to occupy and overpark in metered spaces.

Council Monday decided to take action following complaints by the Chamber of Commerce that taxis are taking up metered space that could be used by shoppers, and leaving their own free spots vacant.

COLWOOD — Reid McKell, 304 Goldstream, Monday, was elected president of the Colwood and District Chamber of Commerce.

Archibald Steel was named vice-president and Harry Rouse secretary-manager.

SIDNEY — Four people who pleaded guilty in Sidney RCMP court to having liquor on an Indian reserve were fined a total $70 and $10.50 costs Saturday.

Charges followed an RCMP roadblock in which 17 people were found violating Indian Act and motor-vehicle laws. More will appear in court this week.

Edward Hubert Williams, Duncan; Richard Davis Bell, Victoria; and Harriet Warren, Victoria, each were fined $20 and $2 costs.

The fourth, Thomas Albert Lamb, Victoria, was fined $10 and $4.50 costs.

Liquor involved was beer and whisky, police said.

Several bundles of logs have gone adrift in the vicinity of Port Renfrew, west coast of Vancouver Island, and are considered a menace to navigation, the department of transport warned today.

NO RESEARCH AID APPROVED FOR LIBERALS

Liberal Leader Ray Perrault Monday asked the government to provide his party with funds for a research assistant.

Apparently his plea fell on deaf ears; there was no answer. His request came as the legislature passed vote Number One, which includes salaries for all members. He noted the OCF had a research assistant.

"We could use money for research. We could make an even more valuable contribution," he said.

SCREENINGS FOR 13,000

'Operation Doorstep' For Alberni District

PORT ALBERNI — "Operation Doorstep," a complete TB skin test and chest X-ray survey of the Alberni Valley, started today.

The survey which will screen some 13,000 Alberni and Port Alberni residents will be completed by April 28.

The project will provide every child from six months of age up to school-leaving age with a TB skin test. It will provide all adults with both a skin test and chest X-ray.

Over 4,500 school children in the area have received their TB skin test during the past few weeks. Dr. C. C. McLean, medical director of the survey, pointed out that about 5 per cent of the children have been found to be infected with the germ that causes tuberculosis. This compares favorably with the provincial average.

Back Injury Talk

A special address on back injuries—one of the most common home and industrial ailments—will be presented by Greater Victoria and District Safety Council in B.C. Electric Co. Flame Room Wednesday.

Orthopedic surgeon Dr. H. R. Carter will give the talk at 8 p.m. The public is welcome.

$21,548 FOR STEVEDORE UPHELD BY SUPREME COURT

OTTAWA (CP) — An appeal by Halcyn Shipping Company Limited against lower court judgments ordering it to pay damages of $21,548 to Fred O'Krane of Tahsis, B.C., was dismissed Monday by the Supreme Court of Canada.

O'Krane was badly injured in April, 1953, while working as a stevedore on the Eleni D, a freighter owned and operated by the Greek shipping company. While the ship was docked at Tahsis, O'Krane fell into the hold when a rung broke on a steel ladder.

The company argued that it was not liable under the B.C. Workmen's Compensation Act to pay damages. This argument also was rejected earlier by the British Columbia Supreme and Appeal Courts.

Eleven pretty girls all in a row, but which one to pick Sherrin doesn't know. Sherrin Molyard, of course, was "Miss Victoria, 1960," but who will be her successor? Entrants in the 1961 contest, sponsored by the Jaycee Fair committee, are, from left: Marika Schwagley, 20; Pat Aldeguer, 22; Pat Thompson, 18; Shirley Reason, 18; Bonnie

Poulsen, 18; Linda Petterson, 19; Georgina Noels, 19; Loretta Mathews, 18; Dianne Breckon, 19; Nina Holden, 18, and Audrey Clink, 19. One more entry has been received so far—Sherine Smith, 19. Officials hope to see at least 25 entrants before the pre-judging of the contest is held April 17. (Times Photo.)

KELOWNA PACKING HOUSE DESTROYED BY FIRE

Marshals Probe Second Blaze

KELOWNA, B.C. (CP)—A member of the British Columbia fire marshal's office today was to investigate the possibility of arson in a $500,000 fire, the second major packinghouse fire here in less than a month.

Fire Chief Charles Pettman said after the fire was brought under control after a four-hour fight against deadly cyanide gas fumes there is "no actual evidence of arson."

But, he added, "it appears to have got away too fast for a normal fire."

Mayor Dick Parkinson said he was sure an arsonist was responsible for the fire. S-Sgt. M. Macalpine of the RCMP detachment here declined to comment but said police are investigating a previous small fire and an $800,000 fire that destroyed several warehouses March 14.

departments fought the blaze, the second in as many weeks a 12,000-volt power line was in danger of parting over their heads.

At one point deadly cyanide gas from fertilizer stored in one of the buildings rose with smoke around the fire fighters.

A giant packinghouse of Kelowna Growers Exchange in a warehouse complex near the railway yards here, and the investigating a previous small fire and an $800,000 fire that destroyed several warehouses March 14.

On March 14 four of the KGE packinghouses were destroyed in an $800,000 blaze. Another building was badly damaged at that time.

Police Warned Spectators in Danger

At one stage, the fire chief warned RCMP he could not be responsible for the safety of hundreds of spectators at the scene.

Mayor Dick Parkinson said: "There's something awfully fishy about this fire. It must have been a firebug."

He said the blaze, following on the heels of the March 14 fire, has placed the Growers in a serious position insofar as packinghouse facilities are concerned.

The Growers, he said, were considering all-night guards to protect remaining packinghouses.

The two fires will mean a loss of cold storage packing space for more than 500,000 boxes of apples.

The fire, which started about 10 p.m. PST was believed to have originated in packing cases behind the Occidental Packinghouse cold storage plant. A railway box car near the buildings also caught fire.

Reports indicated about 50 tons of highly-explosive fertilizer were stored in one of the buildings. Police attempted to erect a barricade to keep spectators out of the way in the event of an explosion.

Police said no one was injured. However, persons were evacuated from a complex of warehouses in the area.

General manager Darby Hayes of Occidental, said loss of his cold storage plant would mean more than $300,000.

Three fire departments, comprising 75 men, answered the call. Other nearby departments were asked to stand by in case they were needed.

Vernon Plant

VERNON (CP)—Vernon fire department quelled a blaze at the R. H. MacDonald and Son Limited packinghouse here Monday. Packinghouse owner R. H. MacDonald said damage was restricted to "several thousand dollars."

A blaze at the same spot 14 months ago caused damage worth $30,000.

'SENTRY' LEGAL, TOO

For $40 You Can Learn If Radar Lurks Nearby

BUFFALO (AP)—An electronics company in nearby North Tonawanda is manufacturing a handy device that warns motorists as they approach police radar zones.

Radartron Inc., calls it "the radar sentry," and says it is completely legal.

The device is about the size of two cigar packages and sells for about $40. It is powered by self-contained batteries that activate a buzzer signal about a quarter-mile from radar speed-tracking equipment.

William Waylen, general manager of the corporation, said "it's certainly as legal as radar is for the police."

But police feel differently.

"I think a jury might be influenced in an accident case if you had one of these devices in your car," one traffic officer said.

More Polaris Missiles Asked

WASHINGTON (CP)—President Kennedy asked Congress today for an increase of nearly $2,000,000,000 in United States defence spending, concentrating heavily on building a bigger missile stockpile and more conventional weapons to wage brush-fire wars.

Kennedy also proposed slashing expenditures on costly development of the 2,000-mile-an-hour B-70 bomber and atomic aircraft, and rejected army moves to get the Mike-Zeus to prove its worth in field tests before production is started.

Over-all, his proposals would mean an increase of about $1,954,000,000 over the $42,900,000,000 defence budget former president Eisenhower blue-printed for the fiscal year beginning next July 1.

"This budget is wholly consistent with our earnest desire for serious conversation with the other side on disarmament," Kennedy said. "If genuine progress is made, then as tension is reduced, so will be our arms."

MORE ATOMIC SUBS

Kennedy proposed boosting production of atomic-powered submarines armed with Polaris missiles to 29 in the next three years from the 19 originally planned. Effort would be made to extend the Polaris range from the present 1,500 miles to perhaps 2,500.

Production also would be increased for the Minuteman intercontinental ballistic missile. But plans for creating three mobile squadrons of these missiles to be moved on railway cars are being changed to replace them with three squadrons fixed underground. The mobile missile apparently still needs improvement.

Development of the Skybolt missile, with a range of about 1,000 miles, is to be accelerated. The Skybolt, on which Britain is developing heavily, would be shot from long-range bombers, but some of the original concept of use may require change.

The U.S. Air Force had hopes of eventually using Skybolt with the B-70 flying at three times the speed of sound. But Kennedy decided to reduce B-70 development to research project, with only about four prototypes to be built.

Informants said the B-70 had no major innovations to warrant the huge expenditures involved.

CONTINENTAL DEFENCE

In the field of continental defence—which may be closer to home in Canada—Kennedy proposed improvements in radar and satellite warning systems, but made no mention of any defence production-sharing plans with Canada.

But Canadian defence manufacturers undoubtedly would find plenty of interest in new items needed for limited war. Kennedy proposed spending more money on non-nuclear weapons research, on additional transport aircraft, new types of sea transport, helicopters, rifles, ammunition, assault rockets, trucks, torpedoes, as well as secret weapons.

While downgrading the B-70 project, Kennedy maintained manned aircraft will be needed "even during the 1965-75 missile era for various limited war missions" and other tasks.

CNR Deficit Biggest Yet

OTTAWA (CP)—A continent-wide nosedive in transport traffic hit the Canadian National Railways in 1960 with the biggest deficit of its 37-year history.

The publicly-owned company went in the red by $67,496,777, which was $23,908,487 higher than the deficit of 1959 and some $6,000,000 higher than the record deficits of the depression years of 1931-32. The annual report was tabled in the Commons today.

Lieutenant-Governor George Pearkes read a short prorogation speech prepared by the government which ignored the biggest legislative acts which caused all the controversy in the last nine weeks.

U.S. Ready To Assist Africans

UNITED NATIONS (UPI)

Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson told the African countries today that the U.S. is prepared to back a "realistic" program for their continent's development with the world's capital-rich countries contributing one per cent of their gross national product.

Stevenson, in a 70-minute meeting with diplomats of 25 African countries, declared that the initiative for a continental development program must come from the Africans themselves.

The group, after hearing Stevenson, appointed a sub-committee to consider the program he had outlined. Participants in the session expressed pleasure with the frank exposition put before them by Stevenson.

Stevenson told a news conference later that he had told the Africans the U.S. was prepared to "give substantial support"—both multilateral and bilateral—to a realistic program in Africa.

VERBAL PUNCHES TRADED AS ROUGH SESSION ENDS

By FRANK RUTTER

Times Legislative Reporter

One of B.C.'s roughest legislative sessions ended at 5 p.m. Monday on a bitter note symbolic of the CCF-Social Credit battle to assert power and influence.

Lieutenant-Governor George Pearkes read a short prorogation speech prepared by the government which ignored the biggest legislative acts which caused all the controversy in the last nine weeks.

Monday's sittings were a climax to last week's furious five night sittings during which the CCF fought every inch of the way against labor legislation and Health Minister Eric Martin.

Opposition Leader Robert Strachan stalked angrily out of the House before Premier Bennett's adjournment prior to the prorogation ceremony.

He had been forced to yield the floor when he tried to protest the claim of the premier that the CCF had filibustered the session into the Easter Week.

The two gave sharp statements to the press after the House rose.

Premier's official session-end statement included: Regret over "the decision of Opposition spokesmen to employ filibustering and delaying tactics at a time when a vigorous development program is of such urgency."

Mr. Strachan's statement: "It's completely false."

In keeping with British parliamentary tradition the Opposition leader added, "We have insisted on our rights to speak up as responsible representatives."

Chopping Blows Face City's Works Budget

$21,150 Cut Out At Start

City public works committee today began an intensive attack on preliminary 1961 estimates totalling some $3,883,000—up about $1,797,000 from last year.

The committee's budget alone could boost taxes by about 17 mills if all the proposed improvements were adopted and paid out of this year's levy.

Among new projects contributing to the higher estimates are proposals to extend Blanshard Street to Douglas, revamp the Johnson-Wharf intersection and install a modern lighting system downtown.

Committee members began cutting at the estimates by chopping $21,150 in small amounts from relatively fixed maintenance budgets for civic buildings, waterworks and inspection services this morning.

Substantial cuts are expected when new projects come under consideration later.

Additions totalling $1,150 were made to the estimates to permit employment of a temporary building inspector and to "beef up" the account for repairing City Hall ceilings.

City engineer J. C. Garnett said at least $600 would be needed for the continuing repair of ceiling plaster that keeps falling down in City Hall as a result of roof leaks.

NOBODY KNOWS
"As soon as we patch up one leak, another develops and there's no way to know where the plaster is going to fall," he said.

(Council has refused to re-roof the building in the past because of the expense and possible sale of the property.)

Ald. Geoffrey Edgelow, Mr. Garnett and city manager C. C. Wyatt were delegated to interview forestry officials to see if $2,000 could be saved from fire patrols in Thetis Lake Park.

Ald. Edgelow, repeating a stand he took last year, said the city "should make a scene" with forestry officials and demand they rescind an order requiring the park patrols. He said a nearby fire-spotter's tower was adequate "and we shouldn't have to spend this useless amount."

Action Asked On Harbor Cleaning Job

An immediate clean-up of the Inner Harbor was urged by the Chamber of Commerce harbor and transportation group at a meeting Monday night at the Colonial Hotel.

Capt. George Veres, group chairman, told the meeting the Inner Harbor waters are so "filthy," and filled with oil and debris, that few pleasure craft would risk using the harbor.

BAD PUBLICITY
Tom Denny said it is urgent the harbor be cleaned up before Swiftsure Week when scores of yachts will be here. It would be very poor publicity for Victoria, he suggested, if these craft should be fouled by the oily water of the harbor.

Herbert Barnes originated a motion that city council should be approached to take immediate action on the problem. The motion was passed unanimously.

TRAFFIC FINES

In Central Saanich police court Thursday:

Sam Tim, 554 Fisgard, $35 for careless driving.

In Sidney RCMP court Saturday:

Edgar Von Kaldenberg, Sidney; George Richard Alward, Sidney; John Claude Rousseau, Sidney; Dylis Lavina Jahn, Sidney; Peter Edward Lanning, Royal Oak, and Beryl Mary Schroter, Bremner, Alta., $15 and $25 costs each for speeding over 30.

John Egland, Sidney, $35 and $25 costs for careless driving; $20 and $25 costs for speeding over 30, and $10 and $3 for failing to stop at a stop sign.

'Signals' Needed Says Bank Head

By GORDON BELL, Times Business Editor

Early this year W. E. McLaughlin, president of the Royal Bank, stated in his report to shareholders there was a great need for a "clear and unmistakable sign" of Bank of Canada policy.

Today, in Victoria, Mr. McLaughlin said in an interview this need is greater than ever, but still hasn't been fulfilled.

"We still have a 'floating' bank rate and no signals," said the bank president.

YOUNGEST AT 45
At 45 Mr. McLaughlin is the youngest president in the Royal Bank's history and he is a man with considerable optimism about the future of Canada.

Speaking of the economic outlook, he noted signs of a pickup although he believed there would still be some "structural" unemployment for the country to contend with, the problem of finding jobs for unskilled and untrained workers.

However, he did not believe that government "pump-priming" is the answer to this problem. Rather the training of workers and, especially recognition of the need to encourage young people to get better educations, is the answer.

Mr. McLaughlin noted there is some surplus of plant and productive capacity in Canada but did not believe it too serious.

WAITING PERIOD
"We over-built during the boom years," he said, "and it is natural that we will have to wait a little before we can use the surplus."

One point that does bother Mr. McLaughlin about the future is the effect of government policy toward foreign investment. He believes it is unwise to frighten foreign capital away and that the government's "baby budget" has had that effect.

The psychological effect of the policy has been bad, Mr. McLaughlin stated. He hoped the apprehension aroused would be somewhat resolved in the next federal budget.

Mr. McLaughlin returned to Vancouver after seeing the premier this morning, but comes back to Victoria Thursday. He will stay here over the Easter weekend before going on to San Francisco.

He is on his annual tour of Royal Bank branches in Canada and the U.S.

Two Round Trips By Mv Coho To Start Sunday
Stepped-up spring schedule for Mv Coho on the Victoria-Port Angeles route, effective Sunday, was announced today by the operators, Black Ball Transport Inc.

This will provide two round trips daily, instead of the winter schedule of a single round trip. Departures from Victoria will be at 9 a.m. and 1 p.m., from Port Angeles at 7 and 11 a.m.

The schedule will be further increased to four round trips daily June 10 through Sept. 10. Departures from Victoria will be at 6 and 10:15 a.m., 2:30 and 6:30 p.m. From Port Angeles 8 a.m., 12:15, 4:30 and 8:15 p.m.

Schedule operates on local time, as both B.C. and Washington go on daylight saving time April 30.

NEW STYLE LITTER CAN NOT ANSWER

Illegal garbage dumpers will go to any length "to ply their trade," city public works committee learned today.

Committee was told that a new style of street litter can, with a fixed cover to discourage persons dumping their household garbage, was installed last week outside City Hall for a trial.

"Already we've found a parcel, full of garbage, all neatly wrapped and left on the sidewalk beside the can," city engineer J. C. Garnett said.

NEW BID TO BUY CITY HALL

Ald. Geoffrey Edgelow today indicated approaches are under way again for purchase of City Hall.

He did not identify the prospective purchaser.

Public works committee chopped out a proposed $10,000 re-wiring program for the building's overloaded electrical services and a proposed $1,000 fire alarm system, after Ald. Edgelow said there were "possibilities" the building might be sold.

Meanwhile, Mayor Percy Scurrah said he had "no comment" about a visit from George Wilkinson, Vancouver, vice-president of Marwell Construction. The company last year offered to use the City Hall site for a combined new business and civic building.

NOT MARWELL
However, Mayor Scurrah said he would discount rumors that Marwell may make another bid for the property.

Ald. Edgelow told the estimates committee to keep maintenance costs to a minimum because "there are possibilities of someone making an offer on this property and arrangements being made for another (civic) building."

"This building might be purchased. There is interest being shown in that now."

City Manager C. C. Wyatt nodded agreement with Ald. Edgelow's remarks.

Sentence On Thursday

Sentence in Assize Court for William John Stewart, Kemp Lake Road, convicted Monday of criminally negligent driving, is expected Thursday.

He was remanded in custody.

Stewart was charged following an accident in the early hours of last Oct. 21 in which Jack Leroy Cameron and his brother Tom Cameron, both from Colwood, were instantly killed.

The brothers were pinned between a wrecking truck and another vehicle when the car Stewart was driving hit the wrecker. The tragedy took place in the Dewdney Flats area of the Sooke highway.

The jury went out for lunch at 1 p.m. and returned their verdict at 3:20 p.m.

'Room at the Y' Thing of Past Under Amalgamated Operation

One of the oldest institutions in Victoria will be no more when the amalgamated YMCA-YWCA building is constructed on Broughton Street.

For the first time in the history of the "Y" in Victoria there will be no men's residences that have provided low-cost shelter for thousands of transients and low-income groups.

This will be explained in plans for the new building to be outlined at the first joint YM-YWCA annual meeting Wednesday at 8 p.m. in the YMCA gymnasium.

Rooms for women will continue to operate since the YMCA building is being demolished in 1962.

"It is one of the traditional services of the YW," explained Mrs. Phyllis Graveley, executive director.

Also planned for the structure are two gyms to take care of the increase in men's and women's classes, and two swimming pools, one for practice and the other a 75 by 25-foot competition pool with diving facilities.

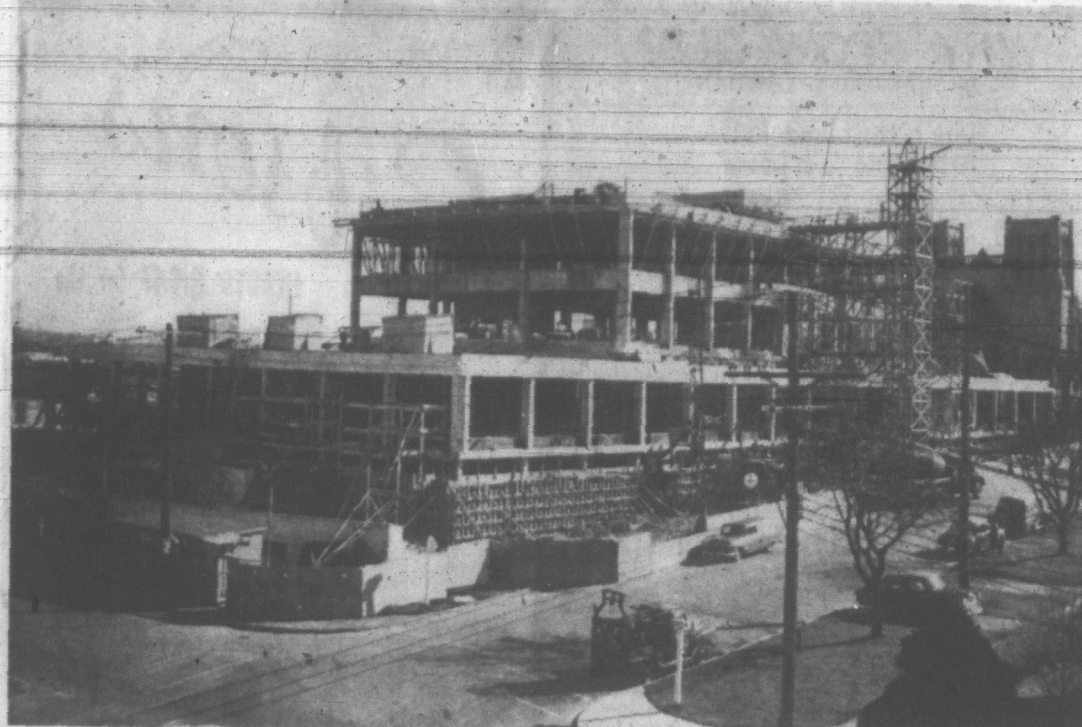

Although the YM and YW officially amalgamated here in January under a joint constitution and board, the meeting will be the first joint annual meeting since the YMCA building was demolished in 1929.

The primary reasons for omitting men's residences in the new building are related to improved public rooms elsewhere at low rent and a change in the type of YMCA boarder.

Current weekly rent for a YMCA room is $8, whereas a comparable housekeeping room downtown rents for $7.50.

UNDESIRABLE
In addition, the old type of roomer is fast disappearing, except for summer students and teachers, and is being replaced with what one official has called, "an undesirable element."

Guest speaker at the meeting will be provincial archivist Willard Ireland and other speakers will include YM-YW president Mrs. A. H. Sheard, first vice-president Dr. Alan McGill and YMCA general secretary F. V. Shoemaker.

Majestic Facade for Majesty of Law

Beginning to give some hint of graceful, step-back design of completed buildings, Victoria's new court-house construction continues well ahead of schedule, as contractors, Luney Brothers and Hamilton, foresee no difficulty in meeting June, 1962, completion date.

Main entrance faces Burdett, at right, and raised stairways to give access from Blanshard Street can be seen behind temporary fence at left. Building will have 140,000 square feet of floor space, including 37,000 feet in a basement parking area.

MONTE ROBERTS

Our Very Own Addenda Department, birds, bees, and date divisions.

BIRDS: Recent remarks in this space anent the bird-feeding station hanging outside the breakfast nook window, and the frustrating effect of same upon Little Miss Muffet, the female-type cat who lives at our house, need re-examination.

Either my initial observations of the cat's reactions were superficial and incorrect, or the cat has adjusted herself to the situation.

I am now convinced she LIKES having the birds come to dinner.

She watches them with fascination, and, despite twitching tail, often emits the continual purring sound generally taken to indicate happiness.

I'm beginning to think this cat is FOR the birds.

BEES: Recent remarks in this space anent the fact bees are sold by the pound were discussed at a bee-keeping course the other night.

(Oh, yes, there is no such thing as a bee-keeping course.)

The remarks expressing concern for the man who holds the bees on the scale while they are being weighed were pooh-poohed by the instructor.

He said it was a simple matter to weigh a pound of bees.

Just take 4,000 bees and pour them through a funnel into a jar and—voilà—you have a pound of bees.

Now I'm worried about the man who has to count the 4,000 bees.

(I was going to tell you 1,300 humming birds also weigh a pound, but decided against it.)

DATES: Recent remarks in this space anent purchasing The Saturday Evening Post each Tuesday, and the confusion arising from same, sent Curtis Publishing Company into a flurry of action.

The local rep. sent a clipping of this space to head office in Philadelphia.

Head office held an emergency meeting of the board of directors, following which the chairman of the board caused this wire to be sent to the local rep:

FOR PETE'S SAKE SAVE THIS GUY'S SANITY SEE HE GETS SATURDAY POST ON SATURDAY.

So that's how I got a copy of The Saturday EVENING Post last Saturday.

Saturday MORNING, that is.

And the issue dated April 7, NEXT SATURDAY.

Two Charged After Chase In Oak Bay

A police chase through quiet Oak Bay streets at up to 60 miles an hour early today led to three charges against two men in Oak Bay police court.

George A. R. Reader, 1746 Island Highway, pleaded guilty to driving while under suspension and careless driving—and was fined $150 and $75 respectively.

Magistrate William Ostler cancelled Reader's driving privileges anywhere in Canada for two years.

Kenneth Roy Henry Tidbury, 26, of 1719 Emerson, owner of the car driven by Reader and passenger at the time, pleaded guilty to theft under $50 value after a $150 flashlight was found in his possession.

He had stolen it a few minutes earlier from a car parked in a garage at the rear of 2092 Haultain, home of the owner, Wilbur Wilson.

Police responding to a prowler complaint at 2:10 a.m. followed the car from Haultain, through a stop sign on Kinross at Cadboro Bay and onto Estevan, a distance of six blocks.

In finding Tidbury $35—it was a first offence—Magistrate Ostler observed the situation was "far more serious than the circumstances would indicate."

NAVAL SHIP MOVEMENTS

Mayor Lauds Leadership Training

The world has never needed leaders so much as now, Mayor Percy Scurrah told the opening session of the International Supreme Council meeting of the Order of DeMolay in Victoria today.

"You in DeMolay are developing leaders and how vital that is," he said.

Mayor Scurrah was welcoming to Victoria the 300 delegates, observers and guests of the council meeting, some of whom have travelled from as far away as Australia, Hawaii and Mexico.

This is the first time in the 42-year history of DeMolay that a meeting of the International Supreme Council—the governing body—has been held outside the borders of the United States.

SWEEP AWARD

Dr. Gordon F. Grant, Victoria, executive officer in charge of the 25 chapters in B.C., is serving as host to the meeting.

Under his leadership, the movement has grown rapidly in British Columbia. So much so that during the four-day meeting he will receive, on behalf of the province, the Supreme Council's Sweepstake Award. This is awarded to the outstanding jurisdiction among the 73 in the movement.

At the same time Victoria chapter will receive the "Chapter of the Year" plaque as the most outstanding of the 2,150 chapters in 12 countries.

WORLD-WIDE
The Order of DeMolay, a junior Masonic lodge, was founded in Kansas City, Missouri, in 1919 and now operates on a world-wide basis.

DeMolay came to British Columbia in 1937 when the Beaver chapter was instituted in Vancouver. Victoria chapter has been operating since 1954.

Wrecking his car against a pole was not enough to keep a Saanich driver from keeping a fishing date recently.

Jack Barrington Boam, 2826 Colquitz, was found guilty of careless driving when he appeared in Central Saanich police court Thursday and was fined $25.

Held police he was heading for Brentwood and when turning off West Saanich Road onto Verdier his brakes locked and the car went off the road. The car was abandoned where it stopped and Boam carried on.

ASK THE TIMES

Q. Who named our province British Columbia?—M.R.

A. Queen Victoria.

Q. What word is used to denote a male dancer in a ballet?—F.W.K.

A. It's "danseur." A classical male dancer, independent soloist or partner to a ballerina is known as a "danseur noble."

Anyone wishing a question answered is invited to send the question along with the name, address and telephone number to "Ask the Times," Editor, Questions and Answers, will be published daily.

All questions should deal with matters of fact and be of general interest. The Times does not undertake to solve conundrums or legal problems. Nor will it attempt to put a value on old coins, stamps or antiques. These should be submitted to a dealer.

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada has told Britain it cannot contemplate any reduction in Britain's 1957 commitment to buy 12,000 tons of Canadian uranium between 1963 and 1966, Trade Minister Hees said today.

However, Mr. Hees added in the Commons, Canada might consider a lower price for the uranium.

Mr. Hees was replying to a barrage of questions from Opposition Leader Pearson and CCF Leader Argue on the question of whether Britain's commitment to take 12,000 tons of uranium in 1963-66 will be fulfilled.

France Bucks
SEATO Action

BANGKOK, Thailand (Reuters)—The Southeast Asia Treaty Organization held an emergency session tonight in an attempt to iron out differences over a tough resolution on Laos backed by the United States.

The night meeting was called after an earlier session had failed to agree on the American-backed resolution. France was holding out against a "too warlike" declaration by the eight-nation alliance.

French officials said the difference was one "of tactics" but not of objectives. Qualified observers expected, however, that the French would hold out as long as possible against any commitment to involve herself with SEATO in any threat of action in Laos.

The argument over the resolution developed amid fading hopes of an early Soviet reply to Britain's proposal for restoring peace to the neighboring Indochina kingdom.

French sources claimed that in addition to their own opposition to the tough American line there were gradations of opinion among other foreign ministers at the conference.

A French source said he doubted that France would reach the point of abstaining when the resolution comes up for a final vote Wednesday.

Conference sources said the Americans were arguing in favor of a "very firm" resolution to strengthen the West's hand in negotiations with Russia over the future of Laos.

Talks on taking a tough line were held at a top-level restricted afternoon session after U.S. State Secretary Dean Rusk told delegates at a routine morning session not to expect a Russian reply before the conference ends Wednesday.

Discussion on the resolution will continue Wednesday.

SEATO Secretary-General Pete Sarasin of Thailand told a press conference at day's end that the Russian reply could be expected in the not-too-distant future, "perhaps next week."

EQUAL—BUT THOSE MICE!

MOSCOW (UPI)—Soviet scientist Oleg Gazenko explained today why no woman will be aboard Russia's first manned space flight.

"In spite of the equality of sexes in our country, we will have to give preference to a man," Gazenko told a news conference.

"Moreover, there are mice in the spaceship."

CNR Deficit
Biggest Yet

OTTAWA (CP)—A continent-wide nosedive in transport traffic hit the Canadian National Railways in 1960 with the biggest deficit of its 37-year history.

The publicly-owned company went in the red by $67,496,777, which was $23,908,487 higher than the deficit of 1959 and some $6,000,000 higher than the record deficits of the depression years of 1931-32. The annual report was tabled in the Commons today.

WASHINGTON (AP)—A today threatened to renew the strike that shut down seven major airlines a little over a month ago.

U.S. Stands Ready
To Assist Africans

UNITED NATIONS (UPI)—Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson told the African countries today that the U.S. is prepared to back a "realistic" program for their continent's development with the world's capital-rich countries contributing one per cent of their gross national product.

Stevenson, in a 70-minute meeting with diplomats of 25 African countries, declared that the initiative for a continental development program must come from the Africans themselves.

The group, after hearing Stevenson, appointed a subcommittee to consider the program he had outlined. Participants in the session expressed pleasure with the frank exposition put before them by Stevenson.

Stevenson told a news conference later that he had told the Africans the U.S. was prepared to "give substantial support — both multilateral and bilateral — to a realistic program in Africa."

A MISS IS A MUST FOR FAIR

Eleven pretty girls all in a row, but which one to pick Sherrin doesn't know. Sherrin Molyard, of course, was "Miss Victoria, 1960," but who will be her successor? Entrants in the 1961 contest, sponsored by the Jaycee Fair committee, are, from left: Marika Schwagley, 20; Pat Aldeguer, 22; Pat Thompson, 18; Shirley Reason, 18; Bonnie

Poulsen, 18; Linda Petterson, 19; Georgina Noels, 19; Loretta Mathews, 18; Dianne Breckon, 19; Nina Holden, 18, and Audrey Clink, 19. One more entry has been received so far—Sherine Smith, 19. Officials hope to see at least 25 entrants before the pre-judging of the contest is held April 17. (Times Photo.)

MORE MISSILES ASKED

U.S. Arms Budget
Hiked $2 Billion

WASHINGTON (CP)—President Kennedy asked Congress today for an increase of nearly $2,000,000,000 in United States defence spending, concentrating heavily on building a bigger missile stockpile and more conventional weapons to wage brush-fire wars.

Kennedy also proposed slashing expenditures on costly development of the 2,000-mile-an-hour B-70 bomber and atomic aircraft, and rejected army moves to get the Mike-Zeus to prove its worth in field tests before production is started.

Over-all, his proposals would mean an increase of about $1,954,000,000 over the $42,900,000,000 defence budget former president Eisenhower blue-printed for the fiscal year beginning next July 1.

"This budget is wholly consistent with our earnest desire for serious conversation with the other side on disarmament," Kennedy said. "If genuine progress is made, then as tension is reduced, so will be our arms."

Fire Claims
Family of 12
In Log House

CLARKSVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—A family of 11, possibly 12, died today in a fire which destroyed the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Whitehead in the nearby rural community of Dotsonville.

Sheriff Kenneth Albright's office said 10 bodies, most of them children, were recovered within a few hours from the smoldering embers. Firemen sought two more believed to be in the debris.

Mr. and Mrs. Whitehead and their nine children lived in a five-room log house, along with Mrs. Whitehead's father, Albert Gibbs.

Kennedy Wants 2-Hour Atlantic Hop

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Kennedy has asked Congress to provide $10 million to start developing a supersonic airliner that could whisk passengers from New York to London in about two hours.

While the $10 million would be only a small share of the total cost, it would be one of the most significant steps in civil aviation history. Never before has the government helped finance development of a commercial airliner.

Death Sentence for U.K. 'Gangster'

LONDON (UPI)—Victor John Terry, a 20-year-old laborer who tried to pretend he was a bank robber, was sentenced to death today for murdering a 61-year-old bank guard.

Two other youths were found guilty of non-capital murder and Terry's 18-year-old girl friend, Valerie Joan Salter, was found guilty of being an accessory after the fact.

$1.3 Million
Loss in Month

KELOWNA, B.C. (CP)—A member of the British Columbia fire marshal's office today was to investigate the possibility of arson in a $500,000 fire, the second major packinghouse fire here in less than a month.

Fire Chief Charles Pettman said after the fire was brought under control after a four-hour fight against deadly cyanide gas fumes there is "no actual evidence of arson."

But, he added, "it appears to have got away too fast for a normal fire."

Mayor Dick Parkinson said he was sure an arsonist was responsible for the fire. S-Sgt. M. N. Macalpine of the RCMP detachment here declined to comment but said police are investigating a previous small fire and an $800,000 fire that destroyed several warehouses March 14.

Chief Pettman said today's fire would be closely watched in case it broke out again.

While firemen from three departments fought the blaze, the second in as many weeks a 12,000-volt power line was in danger of parting over their heads.

At one point deadly cyanide gas from fertilizer stored in one of the buildings rose with smoke around the firefighters.

A giant packinghouse of Kelowna Growers Exchange in a warehouse complex near the railway yards here, and the Occidental Packinghouse cold storage plant adjacent to it were destroyed.

On March 14 four of the KGE packinghouses were destroyed in an $800,000 blaze. Another building was badly damaged at that time.

Police Warned Spectators in Danger

At one stage, the fire chief warned RCMP he could not be responsible for the safety of hundreds of spectators at the scene.

Mayor Parkinson said: "There's something awfully fishy about this fire. It must have been a firebug."

He said the blaze, following on the heels of the March 14 fire, has placed the Growers in a serious position insofar as packinghouse facilities are concerned.

The Growers, he said, were considering all-night guards to protect remaining packinghouses.

The two fires will mean a loss of cold storage packing space for more than 500,000 boxes of apples.

The fire, which started about 10 p.m., was believed to have originated in packing cases behind the Occidental Packinghouse cold storage plant. A railway box car near the buildings also caught fire.

Reports indicated about 50 tons of highly-explosive fertilizer were stored in one of the buildings. Police attempted to erect a barricade to keep spectators out of the way in the event of an explosion.

Police said no one was injured. However, persons were evacuated from a complex of warehouses in the area.

General manager Darby Hayes of Occidental, said loss of his cold storage plant would mean more than $300,000.

Three fire departments, comprising 75 men, answered the call. Other nearby departments were asked to stand by in case they were needed.

Fire Sweeps
Vernon Plant

VERNON (CP)—Vernon fire department quelled a blaze at the R. H. MacDonald and Son Limited packinghouse here Monday. Packinghouse owner R. H. MacDonald said damage was restricted to "several thousand dollars." A fire in the area, Sept. 17, months ago caused damage worth $30,000.

AS ROUGH SESSION ENDS

By FRANK RUTTER
Times Legislative Reporter
One of B.C.'s roughest legislative sessions ended at 5 p.m. Monday on a bitter note symbolic of the CCF-Social Credit battle to assert power and influence.

Lieutenant-Governor George Pearkes read a short prorogation speech prepared by the government which ignored the biggest legislative acts which caused all the controversy in the last nine weeks.

Monday's sittings were a climax to last week's furious five-night sittings during which the CCF fought every inch of the way against labor legislation and Health Minister Eric Martin.

Opposition Leader Robert Strachan stalked angrily out of the House before Premier Bennett's adjournment prior to the prorogation ceremony.

He had been tried to yield the floor when he tried to protest the claim of the premier that the CCF had filibustered the session into the Easter Week.

The two gave sharp statements to the press after the House rose.

Premier's official session-end statement included:

Regret over "the decision of Opposition spokesmen to employ filibustering and delaying tactics at a time when a vigorous development program is of such urgency."

Mr. Strachan's statements: "It's completely false."

In keeping with British parliamentary tradition the Opposition leader added, "We have insisted on our rights to speak up as responsible representatives."

With prorogation came royal

FRIENDLY ENEMIES

Hard feeling set aside, Opposition Leader Strachan, Premier Bennett and Liberal Leader Perrault joined hands in friendly fashion when legislature prorogued Monday afternoon after stormy nine-week session.

ALBERNI COUNCIL SUSPENDS BUSINESS

Public Inquiry Called

ALBERNI — Aldermen here Monday voted unanimously to suspend city council business pending a public inquiry.

The surprise move was made over protests of Mayor Mabel Anderson.

Ald. Thomas Hamilton at the start of the meeting read a motion which said the mayor had made recent public statements which intimated the affairs of the city were not being properly handled by council.

He said because of the widespread publicity given the statement both the financial and moral credit standing on Alberni would be affected.

The motion said further it would therefore be in the best interests of taxpayers that a full public inquiry be held immediately.

Adjournment was moved after the motion passed despite Mayor Anderson's protest that council had no authority to suspend city business.

A few minutes after she entered the general office and told aldermen gathered there "this meeting is reconvening immediately."

Ald. Thomas Burnett told her that under provincial regulations 24 hours must elapse before council could reconvene.

$21,548 FOR STEVEDORE UPHELD BY SUPREME COURT

OTTAWA (CP) — An appeal by Halcov Shipping Company Limited against lower court judgments ordering it to pay damages of $21,548 to Fred O'Krane of Tahsis, B.C., was dismissed Monday by the Supreme Court of Canada.

O'Krane was badly injured in April, 1953, while working as a stevedore on the Eleni D, a freighter owned and operated by the Greek shipping company. While the ship was docked at Tahsis, O'Krane fell into the hold when a rung broke on a steel ladder.

The company argued that it was not liable under the B.C. Workmen's Compensation Act to pay damages. This argument also was rejected earlier by the British Columbia Supreme and Appeal Courts.
